ILLINOIS SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME, QUINCY, ILL.

INTRODUCTION.

This second edition of the Hand-book of Charities is issued under the auspices, and with the direct endorsement, of the Illinois Conference of Charities.

The object is, as it was of our first edition, "to give such authoritative data as will enable a business man to form an intelligent opinion, as to the relative value and scope of the various charitable efforts of the City and State."

The book was intended as a Guide and Directory, and is so used. It is doing service as a book of reference in Public Libraries and Universities, and is an acknowledged aid to the benevolent public in determining quickly and wisely what charities appealing to them are worthy of support. As the former issue of 5,000 copies is exhausted, and as the charitable situation has changed materially since 1891, a revision is made necessary.

Some additional matter which affords a basis for comparison is also given. Thus, to aid in determining the adequacy of the State School for Feeble Minded Children, it is reported that 700 applicants were refused admission, 41 being in our Poor-house associating with 327 children.

Instead of marking steady progress all along the line, in comparing the present with the former edition we note in some respects positive retrogression. The Helping Hand, "furnishing aid to such needy men as are able and willing to work," was discontinued; so too The Shelter, which aimed to help reformed inebriates to a self-respecting position in society; as also, for last summer, the Lake Geneva Holiday Home, which has remained closed even though 5,000 persons sought admission, when only 500 could in any case have been accommodated. This same disproportion, it may be remarked, prevailed between the work done and that which needed doing last winter with reference to all our charities, the County Agent's office included. Some were forced to suspend in sheer despair.

The conclusion was borne in upon the minds of many that unless we are to do violence to the nobler and tenderer instincts of humanity, we must make philanthropy more of a social factor in the community.

But there are signs of the dawning of a better day. We note the marked increase in the benevolent work of our Police Department, of the labor organizations, and of the churches; the establishment by our Board of Education of special schools for the Blind and the Deaf and Dumb, besides twenty Kindergartens; the founding by the State of a Home for Juvenile Female Offenders; the opening by the City Council of Free Public Baths; the broadening out of the work of the Daily News Fresh Air Fund by the projected establishment of a Children's Hospital; the reorganization of the Illinois Association for the giving of work to worthy ex-convicts; the greatly increased interest in Crippled Children; the tendency of thought in favor of coöperation and of union between different organizations doing a similar work, a notable instance in point being the union of the Children's Aid and Children's Home Societies. It also augurs well that the sentiment is gaining that work should whenever possible form the basis of relief, that a man is best helped when he is helped to help himself, this being more conducive to the building up of character, and the benefactor then becoming not a giver of alms but a friend.

Considerable sums of money, more than $100,000, were paid out for relief in the form of wages, and for a few months last winter when 5,000 men and 2,000 women were given work, quite an impression was made on the community. However, the effort was short-lived, and left withal 1,000 able-bodied men in idleness, eating unearned bread at our Poor-house, and as many more at our Police Stations, besides the innumerable multitude at our back-doors. Work-houses, industrial colonies or other forms of municipal industries have never as yet been transplanted to American soil. We listen to a man's cry for bread, but are deaf to his prayer for work to earn that bread.

There was, however, a short but very successful philanthropic undertaking last spring which stands out in strong relief against the dark background of that most pitiful phase of the present destitution caused by enforced idleness, possible alone in the centers of population. At an expense of $5 per capita, 10 families, 12 orphans and 40 single men were rendered permanently self-supporting by being sent out to work on farms. The scale of such operations could be extended indefinitely; indeed, a similar work has been prosecuted in New York City for several decades, on a considerable scale, so that the transplanted persons aggregate hundreds of thousands.

In this connection it should be noted that the table of Comparative Statistics of Police Departments, compiled from official data by the author, shows an increase of 20 per cent in arrests annually in Chicago, against a decrease of .06 per cent in New York.

The poor increasingly flock to our cities. Superior wisdom must divert these irrational tidal waves. Thus alone can it save our cities and at the same time save to society valuable factors in our social economy. Of skilled artisans there are none too many, and these very rarely are in need of relief. This is not true, however, of the many men and women without trades or professions, especially when, as is often the case, their physical condition, their tastes and training would all tend to make of them desirable additions to agricultural communities.

Our hope is that by presenting such facts as are contained in this little volume improved methods will suggest themselves, and thus, as was the parting word of our former edition, this publication, though capable of improvement in the future, will have a strong tendency to protect the charitable public and to make the exercise of the philanthropic impulse safer, more intelligent and more universal—somewhat commensurate with our present and prospective needs, and in keeping with the growth and development of this great metropolis and commonwealth.

—JOHN VISHER, Secretary,

Illinois Conference of Charities and Correction.

Chicago, October 1st, 1894.

THE ILLINOIS CONFERENCE OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTION.

The Conference was organized May 26, 1891, at a meeting held at the Union League Club, Chicago, called by Harvey B. Hurd, at the instance of the presidents of several of the leading charities of Chicago. Representatives of fifty societies were present.

The articles of organization adopted entitled each society doing charitable or correctional work to a representation by two duly accredited delegates, and make the presidents members ex-officio.

ARTICLE II.

"The purpose shall be the promotion of the common interests of the charitable, correctional and philanthropic institutions of the State; to collect and disseminate information concerning their work; to hold conferences for the interchange of opinions and the comparison of methods; to engage in such work as can be best done only through joint effort, and adopt such measures as will tend to secure greater efficiency, co-operation and economy."

ARTICLE VI.

"It shall be the duty of the executive committee to make annually a list of the incorporated charitable and correctional institutions of the city of Chicago and the State of Illinois which are members of this Conference and which in the judgment of the committee are entitled to public confidence. This shall be open to inspection—may be added to and taken from or otherwise corrected by the Conference at any of its regular meetings. Certificates of membership and confidence shall be granted to the aforesaid organizations upon application. Such certificates shall be signed by the President and Secretary of the executive committee. Upon request of any of said societies, certificates shall be issued to their solicitors. The form of all such certificates shall be prescribed by the executive committee."

The first annual meeting was held at the Sherman House, May 26, 1892; the second, March 11, 1893. The attendance at both was full and representative. An Executive Committee is selected at the annual meetings, for a term of one year.

This committee, in accordance with the provisions of the above articles of organization, issues the Hand-book of Charities, and when called for, its system of Certificates of Confidence.

GENERAL CHARITIES.

BUREAU OF JUSTICE.

ROOMS 718-719, GARDEN CITY BLOCK, 55 FIFTH AVE.

Objects: "To assist in securing legal protection against injustice for those who are unable to protect themselves; to take cognizance of the workings of existing laws and methods of procedure, and to suggest improvements; to propose new and better laws, and to make efforts toward securing their enactment."

Receipts for 1893 from donations $5,200.62, from clients $697.37; expenditure $6,124.90.

The Bureau in its annual reports recommends reforms such as making seduction an offense against the State, adoption of better measures for securing support from husbands for wives and children, supervising mutual benefit societies, protecting the innocent and friendless in the police courts, returning an equitable share of payments on "time sales" if foreclosed, establishing a chattel mortgage loan bank, etc.

The Bureau employs a solicitor a part of the time, has no religious affiliations or endowments, and owns no property.

CASES ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE WORK OF THE BUREAU OF JUSTICE.

With the help of the Bureau, K. prosecuted an officer who had without provocation shot him, and obtained his conviction. Many of the officers of the district made it thereafter their business to harass him, and cause his arrest. The Bureau appeared in court to protect.

Mrs. S. borrowed $20 on household goods, giving a chattel mortgage. When she came to the Bureau she had already paid $17.50 in 6 months, and $14 were still claimed as due. She was absolutely penniless. A friend advanced a small loan, and with this settlement was made, preventing foreclosure, saving money to her. She has since paid back the loan.

C. has abandoned his wife and children and contributes nothing to their support. The Bureau caused his arrest for abandonment and compelled him to contribute regularly to the support of his family.

Mrs. P. sold a little stock of goods, through an agent. It was all she had in the world. After the sale the agent failed to turn over the money. The Bureau compelled him to pay her what is due her.

CHICAGO ERRING WOMAN'S REFUGE FOR REFORM.

5024 INDIANA AVE.

Objects: "The relief, protection, care and reformation of such erring females as may voluntarily place themselves under its care, or may be so placed by their parents, guardians, or by any municipal corporation, or otherwise according to law."

The 28th annual report shows 199 girls cared for during the year, a daily average of 86. Of these, 92 left, returning to friends; 13 are self-supporting, 10 went to other institutions, and four returned to their former life. Of the total number admitted, 71 were 16 years old or under, 50 were between 16 and 20, and 20 were over 20. During the year 24 infants were cared for, 16 being born in the Home; four of these were adopted, 4 died, and 6 were taken by the mothers, leaving 10 on hand in charge of their mothers.

Of the girls in the Home at the end of the last fiscal year, 1892-93, one was admitted in 1883, one in '86, three in '88, four in '89, nine in '90, 22 in '91, and the remainder during 1892. The desire is to have them stay not less than one year.

The receipts for the year ending Feb. 1, 1894, were $12,487.51; expenditures, $12,667.12. The support is from rents, $8,967.13; city fines, $2,740; work by inmates, $788; donations, $2,781; and board, $1,853. The society owns its own home, besides a block of stores southeast corner Indiana Ave. and 31st St. and its former Home. It has no paid solicitors. Its religious affiliations are Protestant, as

CHARITY HOSPITAL.

2407 DEARBORN St.

Object: "To give medical and surgical care to destitute sick, free of charge." The hospital is conducted in a rented three-story private residence. It can accommodate some twenty patients. It is in charge of a lady superintendent with assistants. The operations and prescriptions are made with the aid of the students of the Post Graduate College, who, after the manner of clinics, pay a fee for the privilege. These fees and voluntary contributions support the enterprise.

CHICAGO EXCHANGE FOR WOMAN'S WORK.

130 WABASH AVE.

Object: "To provide a depot for the reception and sale of any marketable article which a woman can make in her own home, or any valuable article which her necessities oblige her to dispose of, thereby assisting a needy woman to turn to personal profit whatever useful talent she may possess. To develop a spirit of healthy independence, to help women who are striving to help themselves.

"The association is composed of ladies and gentlemen who subscribe $5.00 a year. It is a philanthropy rather than a charity."

CHICAGO HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.

1926 WABASH AVE.

Kindergarten.

Burr Mission.

Object: "Founded in 1858 as a Protestant institution to afford protection and employment or assistance to worthy destitute women and children until other homes and means of support can be secured to them." "It supplies shelter, food and clothing to worthy applicants irrespective of creed, color or nationality, helps women to obtain employment, cares for homeless children until their mothers procure work and are enabled to provide for them, and receives women and children in transit through the city who by accident or emergency find themselves in need."

During the past twelve years its inmates have numbered 25,000. During 1893 the number admitted was 1,291 women and 1,361 children, making a total of 2,652. Of those, 1,741 were Protestants, 811 Roman Catholics, 3 Greek Catholics, and 97 Jews. Homes were provided for 53 children; 67 were surrendered to the Home. The Home conducts within its walls a graded free school, endowed by Jonathan Burr, for children in the Home and scholars from without, which enrolled during the year 250 pupils, with an average daily attendance of 30.

A Kindergarten School is provided for the smaller children in the Home.

CHICAGO HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.

BURR MISSION FREE CHAPEL (unsectarian), 23rd St.
AND WESTERN AVE.

It was founded by Jonathan Burr in 1867, and is under the control of the Board of Managers of the Home for the Friendless. It employs a chaplain for religious services, maintains a Sunday school, a day school free to the poor children of the neighborhood, and a reading room for evening use of men and boys. It enrolled during 1891 105 pupils, 63 girls and 49 boys, with an average daily attendance of 58.

The expenses for 1893 were: For the Home, $25,938.95; the Home school, $1,443.06; the Burr Mission, $3,863.16; total, $31,240.17. The receipts for 1893 were, from endowments $30,127.17, and donations, $1,188.76. No solicitors are employed. The Home owns its buildings and grounds; has received gifts and bequests from Jonathan Burr, George Smith, Henry Hobart Taylor and John Crerar, Mrs. Louisa Haddock, all of Chicago.

Its officers are a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, and a board of managers consisting of ladies from each Protestant and Hebrew denomination.

AN ILLUSTRATIVE CASE OF HOME FOR THE FRIENDLESS.

In 1892 a father left his motherless children at the Home, he being sick and compelled to seek the care of a hospital. He died, and so the orphans, aged eight and ten, after a year's stay in the Home, were placed out with a farmer, who wrote the following letter:

"Sterling, North Dakota, July 29, 1894.

"MR. JOHN VISHER.

"My Dear Sir:—The children selected and sent out by you, now three months ago, are both growing like weeds, are as happy as kings and queens, have good color, eat and sleep well, and are as chubby as can be. Everything is novel to them. It took them a long time to learn to look away off to see anything, for you know Dakota is a land of magnificent distances. Paul rides his pony every chance he gets, and gives him his oats. Frances feeds some lambs out of a bottle and feels big, I tell you. Paul goes out with me after hay. He says he likes to tread it down. They like the sheep and lambs. Each has one which they call their own. So you see they are adapting themselves to their new life very readily. They are a good deal of company, and we like to see them run and play and enjoy themselves; but I tell you it kept my wife humming for a good while to get them clothes made, as we had nothing in their line on hand. She has them now all fixed up nice and clean. It would do you good to see them. Frances is quite a help about the house, and they both save us a good many steps.

Very truly, H. S."

CHICAGO FLOWER MISSION.

ATHENÆUM BUILDING.

Object: To distribute bouquets and flowers among the sick in hospitals and elsewhere.

The Flower Mission began its work in 1874 in Unity Church parlors; ever since it has enjoyed the free hospitality of the Athenæum, its work being conducted on undenominational and purely philanthropic lines. Branch societies are organized in the suburban towns, and from these and the country at large baskets and boxes of flowers are sent to it, and every Wednesday morning made up into bouquets by the ladies of the Mission. During the season of last year, from the middle of May to the middle of October, 16,568 bouquets, 161 boxes and 89 baskets of flowers were distributed, principally among the hospitals of the city. The entire expense of this work was $80.15, the express companies carrying free of charge.

The Carriage Fund.—This is a special feature, devoted to the giving of rides to convalescents at hospitals. The average annual expenditure for this is $70, for which 345 persons are given a drive through the parks in phaetons. The Mission depends on voluntary donations, has no solicitors or other paid officers or endowments.

CHICAGO FOUNDLINGS' HOME.

114 S. WOOD ST.

Objects: To care for mothers and babies free of charge.

During the year 1893, 505 different inmates were cared for, of which number 258 were infants. 196 were accompanied by the mothers, who are allowed to remain until the adoption of their children, or until places are provided where they can work with them. None are admitted for a less time than five weeks.

Mortality of infants, 14 per cent. Adoptions, 34 in number. Total number of infants admitted since the beginning of the work in Jan. 1871, 5,891. Mothers, 2,373. Total number of adoptions, 1,379. The Home is sustained by voluntary contributions. It employs no solicitor. It owns its buildings free from incumbrance.

Amount expended during 1893, $5,497.68. The religious affiliations of the Home are Protestant, but it does not affiliate with any particular one of its sects. There is no Board of Managers. Dr. George E. Shipman was its founder, and until the time of his death, Jan. 19, 1893, its superintendent. Subsequently his wife was elected superintendent, and his daughter secretary.

FOUNDLINGS' HOME.

CHICAGO ORPHAN ASYLUM.

2228 MICHIGAN AVE.

[Incorporated in 1849.]

Objects: "The protecting, relieving, educating of, and providing means of support and maintenance for orphan and destitute children."

The founding of this asylum, the oldest in the city, dates from the cholera epidemic in 1849, when many little children were bereft, of care and support through the death of their parents. During these forty-five years it has furnished protection and training to more than 5,000 children.

December 1, 1892, the asylum had 218 children. During the year 421 have applied for admittance; of this number, 229 were received (of boys, 139; girls, 90). During the same period 217 have been dismissed, leaving at the present time 230 inmates. The average for the year has been the largest it has ever had, viz., 227. Catholics, 92; Protestants, 302; Jews, 26.

The ages of the applicants were: Under two years, 74; between two and seven years, 190; between seven and twelve years, 154; over twelve years, 3. Of the children admitted, 71 have been deserted by fathers, 6 deserted by mothers, 5 deserted by both parents; 8 have insane mothers, 11 are orphans, and 115 half-orphans. Of the children dismissed, 19 were taken by parents or friends, 11 were adopted into homes, 1 sent to the Industrial School of the Home for the Friendless, and 9 died.

There are now 124 children in attendance at the Moseley School, and 94 have been enrolled during the year in the home school, or kindergarten—a primary grade—the average attendance being 49.

The support is from investments, board and donations solicited by the trustees through circular letters, dispensing with paid solicitors.

The receipts during 1893 were: $722.48 from donations, $8,534.06 from board, $4,000 from bequests, and $14,473.29 from investments, and $7,500 from loans paid in. The disbursements were $21,050 in loans and investments, and $22,679.82 in current expenses.

The report says: "Many very pleasing and touching incidents have transpired during the year, one in particular, where two sisters, adopted by different parties when they were very young, their homes widely separated, and both now married, met here (by appointment) for the first time after this long lapse of years. These reunions have been of peculiar interest to the Board of Ladies, knowing all the parties as they did so well, and the uniform testimony to kindly care has been very gratifying."

AN ILLUSTRATIVE CASE.

Many years ago a puny waif, a foundling, drifted into the Home. He was small, sickly and crippled—had to submit to three severe operations, but was brave and cheerful and grew well and strong. When of age a friend of the asylum offered to pay his tuition through the Manual Training School. He finished the course, and within two years after graduation, was earning $90 a month.

855 N. HALSTED.

[Incorporated 1860.]

"Its object shall be the care and maintenance of the children of poor women, for the purpose of enabling them to find employment; also the care and maintenance of such children as are deprived by death, or other cause, of either parent. Girls are admitted under 12 years, boys under 11 years. Girls are dismissed at 14 years, boys at 12 years of age."

At its first organization the institution was a day nursery, charging 5 cents for the care, by day, of children whose mothers went out to work

Active membership in the society is open to any person contributing to its funds, regardless of denominational connections. The Board of Managers, elected annually by the members, consists of not less than nine ladies. The 33rd annual report (1893) shows:

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

51-53 LASALLE STREET.

[Incorporated by special charter 1857.]

Endowed Charities.

Relief Department.

Branch Offices—North, South, West Sides.

Wood Yards—North and South Sides.

Objects: Charter—Sec. 2. The objects of this corporation shall be strictly of an eleemosynary nature; they shall be to provide a permanent, efficient, and practical mode of administering and distributing the private charities of the city of Chicago; to examine and establish the necessary means for obtaining full and reliable information of the condition and wants of the poor of said city, and putting into practical and efficient operation the best system of relieving and preventing want and pauperism therein.

Constitution—I. In carrying out the objects of this society as indicated in the act of incorporation, it shall be the end aimed at, not only to afford temporary relief to the destitute, but also by rendering timely counsel and assistance to deserving but indigent persons, to place them above the necessity of aid; and without positively limiting itself to any one class in the distribution of its charities, the society shall discriminate in favor of those in whom habits of temperance, industry and thrift, give promise of permanent benefit from the aid furnished, and shall not embrace in the sphere of its operations such as are the proper subjects for the poor-house, or for the action of the county officers.

CHICAGO RELIEF AND AID SOCIETY.

Endowed Charities.

In answer to a call signed by Wirt Dexter, president of the "Christian Union," J. L. Reynolds, president of the "Citizens' Relief," and Dwight L. Moody, president of the Y. M. C. A., a meeting was held Nov. 11, 1867, and a consolidation effected of these societies and the Chicago Relief and Aid, the organization of the latter antedating the others, and the objects being similar.

At the time of the great Chicago fire in 1871, the Relief and Aid Society, by common consent as well as by formal action of the Common Council, was entrusted with the disbursement of the relief funds and food and clothing which poured in from all parts of our country and the civilized world—more than $7,000,000. As a large part of the great distress could be relieved only through asylums and hospitals, and as these also were either destroyed or impoverished by the fire, or inadequate for meeting the extraordinary demands suddenly made on them, the management of the Relief and Aid Society appropriated $432,900 to the following institutions:

Chicago Nursery & Half Orphan Asylum.....	$25,000	Deaconess' Hospital.....	25,000
St. Joseph's Hospital.....	30,000	Chicago Foundlings' Home..	10,000
St. Luke's Hospital.....	28,000	Eye and Ear Infirmary.....	25,000

House of the Good Shepherd..	16,500	Western Seamen's Friend Society.....	8,000
Scammon Hospital.....	15,000	Western Seamen's Bethel....	15,000
Alexian Bros.' Hospital.....	18,000	The Old People's Home.....	50,000
St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum...	30,000
Newsboys' & Bootblacks' Home	12,000
Home for the Friendless.....	30,000	Total	$432,900

The understanding was that in consideration of the aid thus bestowed they would co-operate with the Relief and Aid Society in the work of caring for the city's poor, and make no discrimination on account of race, nationality, or religious belief.

This agreement thus to co-operate was formulated into a definite contract in perpetuity with regard to the following:

The cases helped by these charities are registered at the central office of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society.

Branch Offices—North, South and West Sides.

Upon the union of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society with the Charity Organization Society in 1887, the branch offices and wood yard of the C. O. S. were to be assumed by the former, together with its general work. These branch offices are continued during the winter, the objects conserved being mainly to facilitate consultation and intercommunication among the benevolent public and reference to suitable channels for relief.

Object: "To furnish temporary employment in an emergency to able-bodied men as a labor test."

The method pursued is for the Society to purchase wood and kindling in large quantities and set able-bodied men, as above described, sawing and splitting it, and then delivering it at market prices to customers all over the city. Single men on the performance of a given stint receive tickets good for a meal or lodging at restaurants and lodging houses in the city; married men receive an equivalent in cash. The number of men thus aided is given as follows:

The American Educational Aid Association

A national organization, with sixteen state auxiliaries as follows: Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, California, Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan, Colorado, S. Dakota, N. Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, New Jersey.

Objects: "To provide approved family homes for homeless and dependent children."

The Society has a General Superintendent and each State has a State Superintendent and several District Superintendents.

A prominent feature of the work of this Society is the Local Boards. There are more than 1,000 of these Boards in the State of Iowa alone. These Boards (1) seek homeless children, (2) homes in which to place them, (3) supervise them in their homes to guard against abuse, (4) receive money, which is directly remitted to the treasurer of the State organization.

The Children's Home Society for Illinois placed in homes up to June 1st, 1894, 1,969 children, replacing in all cases of necessity. During last year 227 children were placed. The total number of children placed through its various state auxiliaries is 4,046.

The Society has an organ of 40 pages in magazine form, the Children's Home Finder, the General Superintendent being Editor-in-Chief. The monthly circulation averages 17,000. There is a temporary home for the use of Illinois children at Englewood, the Englewood Infant Nursery, 6516 Perry Ave., also a temporary home with four acres of land at Aurora, Ill.

The Society congratulates itself upon the union of its work in Illinois with that of the Children's Aid Society. It is believed that the child saving work in Illinois will be carried on with greatly increased efficiency because of this union.

Hereafter the work of placing children in the State of Illinois will be done by the Children's Aid Society (see page 52), the Illinois State Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society, and the latter Society will devote itself exclusively to its distinctively national functions. Thus in Illinois as elsewhere the state work is done by the State Auxiliary.

Contributions and bequests for national work should be sent to Edward F. Lawrence, resident director, First National Bank, Chicago, Ill.

Objects: The Children's Aid Society was chartered in July, 1890, "to improve the condition of poor and destitute children." It is working to help the children of the state of Illinois, socially, intellectually and morally.

1. It finds homes for homeless, dependent children, the children of misfortune—the victims of the desertion of one or both parents, those whose parents have become financially embarrassed so that they can no longer support their children, and those who are half-orphans or who have lost both parents—by placing them in family homes to be cared for and trained by loving hands, and adopted as the children and heirs of the adoptive parents.

2. It takes the unmarried mother, the deserted wife, or the widow, who has a child, and finds housework for her in private families, where she can earn the support of both, remaining herself a worthy member of society and training her little one to live an honorable life. It is a rule of the society never to separate a mother and her child unless it is absolutely necessary.

3. It trains the children in the poor and needy districts by establishing kindergartens.

4. It organizes the boys and girls of ten to sixteen years into clubs, furnishing them the best of juvenile reading and the children's magazines, and opening to them the world of parliamentary regulation, of military control, of quiet indoor games, or, through talks, of the many wonders all about them, teaches the members to be gentlemen and gentlewomen.

5. It establishes crèches to furnish at a nominal price care during the day for the little children of working mothers who would otherwise have to stay at home, go encumbered to their work, or leave their babies to be looked after at home by older children.

6. It investigates all cases of need or neglect reported to it, and refers to the proper societies such cases as do not come within its sphere of work.

7. The society has in contemplation a Maternity Hospital, in connection with which there shall be departments for scientific training for girls and young mothers, in domestic work, and for the temporary care of destitute and homeless children.

The union of the Children's Home Society with that of the Children's Aid Society was consummated October 8th, 1894.

The work formerly done by the two Societies for Illinois, will hereafter be carried on by the Children's Aid Society. All donations for the Illinois work should be sent to the Treasurer of the Children's Aid Society (see page 50).

"CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY. Dear Friends:--

"I have been so blessed in the charge you intrusted to me that I must write again and tell you about our dear little Lena.

"She is now seventeen months old. She does not yet walk, for the reason that she has had measles and was for several months quite ill. She is well now, and although a tiny midget, yet she is large enough to hold us all in thrall. She talks some, and this morning at the table asked for a second dish of oatmeal, which she enjoys very much.

"I will tell you truly that we love her just as dearly as we did our own. If we were to lose her now, our hearts would be sore indeed.

"I pray daily that she may grow up into a pure, noble woman. I also pray for strength to enable me to bring her up in the way she should go.

"Now thanking you for your kindness, I close.

"Sincerely yours,

"March, 1894.

E. C. W."

DEAR FRIENDS :

We arrived home at eleven o'clock P. M. Baby slept well until five o'clock in the morning, then she began to cry and kept it up almost constantly for two weeks.

My husband, and brother and his wife, who were visitors, helped in the care of the new baby. The four of us walked the floor and did everything love could dictate to soothe and comfort her, but she would not be comforted.

We sent for the doctor. He smiled and said, "It's her stomach." A change of food, with a little lime water, did the business and now she is the sweetest little cherub you could wish to see. We are perfectly charmed with her.

I feel I owe you an apology for the way I received you at P. I was feeling quite ill and the strain on my nerves was too much for me. The sight of the little helpless babe, and the memory of my five little ones who had been taken from my home, one after another, to the home above broke my spirit quite down and I could say nothing. All I could do was to let the tears flow and relieve my hungry, aching heart.

I want her exact age, for children like to have birthdays.

As we love the precious girlie and wish to save her any annoyance in future that may be avoided, we wish to avoid publicity, and so I request you to send my letters in a common envelope.

When any one asks us where we found our baby, we say, "God gave her to us," and we feel that he did.

Yours truly,
February, 1894.

M. J. G.

Our little Lula has become quite an interesting girl. She is quite a favorite with all the little girls. She goes to Sunday-school. We have not started her to school yet. She can read well for one of her age. She has read the first reader through several times. She is quite hearty and always ready for a romp with papa when I come home at night. I hope all the little girls you find homes for will be Lulas to some one as ours is to us. Yours truly, — —.

Willie is in splendid health. He has grown. He can take the harness off a horse, but is not large enough to put it on. We have sold this place on account of it not being convenient for Willie to go to school. When we get a house with room enough I would love to have a nice little girl. Willie loves to be out with his papa. Your friend S.

Bennett, Ill.—We still have the boy, Ira, and love him as though he were our own. He is a very good boy, we think. Since we have had him (three years) he has never been absent or tardy one day from school, and has only missed Sunday-school once. He likes both and is very quick in learning. We wish you success in your work, for I think it is the noblest work that is being done. B—.

These two letters are from the foster-mothers of twin baby boys:

A—r, Ill.—We call the little boy Glenn. He is doing well, growing, and is a very healthy child; has a good disposition, and is a very bright boy. He loves to go to Sabbath-school, and goes in the class with the other little children. We could not help loving such a boy, for he is just what we want.

H—n, Ill.—We love him more, if possible, than ever. He has grown to be such a fine child—weighs forty-two pounds—and so healthy. We could not love our own better. I must tell you we got acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. B— of A—r, Ill., the family that have the twin to our boy. They are very fine people. The boys had a great time.

CITIZENS' LEAGUE OF CHICAGO FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF THE SALE OF LIQUOR TO MINORS.

OFFICE, 113 ADAMS ST., ROOM 45.

Object: "To secure, by all proper means, the enforcement of all laws and ordinances for the prevention of the sale of liquors to minors and drunkards, and also the enforcement of all laws and ordinances to prevent minors from playing at games of chance or other games in saloons in the city of Chicago."

Fined by Justices.	88	85	581	434	10546

Receipts for 1893, $6,420.04; disbursements, $6,117.52. The Society employs a general agent and two assistants. The agents are vested with police powers, but are not on the department's pay roll, nor does the Society receive benefits of fines, these going to the school fund. Its support is entirely from voluntary donations.

The Society states that it is unable with its present force to cover the entire city properly. This would require one man to every police station, or twelve additional agents, an increased expense of $10,000 a year. This would secure the effectual enforcement of the law against the sale of liquors to minors and drunkards.

AN ILLUSTRATIVE CASE.

"Mrs. Mary A., residing at —, mother of four children, aged 16, 13, 11 and 8, came to the office of the 'Citizens' League,' and gave the history of the misery and ruin surrounding their home, caused by the sale of intoxicating liquors to her husband and her children. This case was investigated by the League's agents, and was found to be pitiful indeed. The husband was a habitual drunkard, spending all his money for intoxicating liquor, until the once happy home became one of misery and want.

"He would compel his children to go to the different saloons and buy intoxicating liquors for him when he was not in a condition to go himself. And upon refusal of the children to obey his commands, they were severely punished by him. The father was arrested, tried, and was sent to the Bridewell, and four saloon keepers were fined for selling liquor to the children, each $25.00 and cost, and one was held in addition to the Criminal Court in bonds of $200.00."

FRIENDLY AID SOCIETY.

3961 DREXEL BOULEVARD.

Object: "The object of this society shall be charitable work, such work to be decided upon by the vote of the majority of the members present. It shall be non-sectarian and consist of members who shall contribute annually to its funds."

There are at present 110 members, all living in the neighborhood. The work undertaken last winter was to contribute $609.12 towards the building fund of the Destitute Crippled Children's Home, and later the opening and maintenance of an emergency sewing room at 197 Oakwood Boulevard.

The receipts were, from membership fees $139; from bazar $656.95; from donations $326.38; from minstrels $591.25. Total, $1,713.58. Disbursements to Crippled Children's Home $609.12, for emergency rooms and incidentals $397.90. Balance in hand, $706.65.

No solicitors or other salaried agents are employed. The nature of the work undertaken is determined by the membership as the various causes present themselves.

HOME FOR SELF-SUPPORTING WOMEN.

275 INDIANA STREET.

Provident Laundry. Employment Bureau.

Object: "To establish and render self-supporting a lodging and boarding house where working women and girls with small means can find a comfortable and respectable home at a moderate price."

The Home was organized in 1887. During 1894 there were 250 girls admitted, and almost as many turned away for want of accommodations. It admits women engaged in all kinds of work and has no religious tests, affiliating with no religious bodies. A small price, $2.50 a week, is charged for board and lodging. The Home is self-supporting. The building is owned; there are no endowments. Receipts from board and lodging, 1893-94, $8,097. Total, $10,377. Disbursements, $9,429.35.

HOME FOR SELF-SUPPORTING WOMEN.

Provident Laundry.

275 Indiana St. Established in 1889.

Object: "To provide a channel of work for able-bodied women out of employment and desirous to become self-supporting; to maintain a training school where superior work is taught, and an Employment Bureau where permanent situations are secured for those desiring them."

The Laundry is conducted in the rear of the Home, overtaxing its accommodations. An average of 25 women find employment daily. The weekly receipts average $250. A large number of these women, the committee's report says, become proficient enough to take permanent positions in families.

An Employment Bureau is connected with the laundry, giving to needy women sent by various charitable organizations employment, mostly in private families. This averages from 60 to 80 days' work a month. During 1893-4 the receipts were $12,817.14; $9,073.54 were paid in wages; running expenses $1,786.67; balance of profit, $2,000, which was given to the Home to cancel its indebtedness.

The Kindergarten, 335 S. Halsted Street.

The Day Nursery, 221 Ewing Street.

The Diet Kitchen, 240 W. Polk Street.

The Public Dispensary, 247 W. Polk Street.

Hull House is a "social settlement." Its twenty residents are interested in promoting whatever social or educational movements promise to contribute to the welfare of the neighborhood.

It conducts, under the superintendence of residents, clubs and classes having a weekly membership of more than 2,000 persons.

It has these distinctively charitable departments:

The Kindergarten and Day Nursery provide for the care of children while the mothers are at work, the crèche averages about 30 children each day. The average attendance at the Kindergarten is 25.

The Diet Kitchen in connection with the Coffee House prepares, in a scientific manner, foods and broths for invalids. and supplies them at a nominal charge or cost price to any one presenting a certificate from a district nurse or a physician. Foods are also sold by the quart or pound to families for home consumption. Coffee, soups and stews are delivered daily at noon to neighboring factories.

The Public Dispensary was opened in October, 1893, for the purpose of affording professional service at small expense, together with instruction on matters of hygiene and the prevention of disease.

Over 2,000 patients have been treated, the residents investigating the cases applying. The Dispensary is open daily from 3 to 4 and 7 to 8 P. M.

It is supported by the Dearborn Seminary Alumni Association.

There is no formal organization of these departments of work; they are supported by monthly contributions, from private individuals. No paid solicitors are employed, nor are there endowments. There are no religious affiliations.

AN ILLUSTRATIVE CASE.

The following letter is written by two of the five brothers whose pictures are on the opposite page, and who were placed by the school in family homes in Iowa.

EDDIE, FRANK, WALTER, ARTHUR AND LOTH—FIVE BROTHERS PLACED IN COUNTRY HOMES.

DEAR MR. DUDLEY:—Well do we remember that awful cold day in January, 1887, when you came to our place and took us all away, and had us taken to court, and how you took us out to the school at Norwood Park. Mother had died about a year before, leaving us with our three little brothers, Walter, Arthur and Lotha, with no one to care for us, and our father, who was drinking, was so poor he could do no work, and we thought we would all starve or freeze to death, and I think now we would if you had not come for us and put us in your nice school at Norwood Park. We thought about the year we spent in the school, and how comfortable you made us, and how the teachers worked to make us happy. We can never forget you and Mrs. Harrison for all you did for us, and how bad we felt to be separated when you sent one of us away to a new home. But when we found you had homes for all five of us near together here in this county, we were all happy again, and will always remember you and the school in our prayers. Now, Mr. Dudley, we want to tell you something about our home out here in Iowa. Frank was here five years the 12th of last December, and I will be here five years the 27th of this month. We two have always lived with Mr. Lessing, where you placed us, and have had a splendid home, and now we are getting to be young men and Mr. Lessing is going to help us in business. Walter, Arthur and Lotha all have good homes, and are doing nicely. We see them often and are so thankful that you took so much interest to have us all located so near together. You have only been here to see us once, but you have sent Mr. West now three times; so we hope you will come to see us this summer. We cannot say enough in praise of the school that did so much for us and so many of the other poor boys. There are about thirty boys from the school in this county, and they all would like to see you.

“Respectfully yours,
“March 7, 1894.

SOUTH EVANSTON, Oct. 5, 1894

DEAR MOTHER:—I have not written to you for a long time, so it will be a surprise to hear from me.

ILLINOIS INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. 75

SCHOOL ROOM ON THE ILLINOIS INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE CAMP

The last letter I received from you was so short that I could hardly believe that you wrote it.

Well, mother, winter is very near, and I will be glad, for I enjoy it more than I do summer.

I think you were informed in your letter from Jessie that she had entered public school in September.

She is getting along very nicely. She is in sixth grade. I can hardly call her little, for her birthday is coming around next month, and it seems as though she is as old as I am (although she is not). How is little Arthur getting along? Has he started school yet? If I am not very careful and study a little harder, Jessie and Arthur will get ahead of me. I still work in the bakery, and I like it just as well as ever.

Some day, if I ever help you keep house, I will know how to bake bread and do a great many other things that will help you. Mother, don't forget that we are both getting to be large girls, so by the time we get home, we can almost take care of you.

With love to all from Jessie and myself,

I am your loving daughter,

Mary C.

Love to Katie and Grandma.

P. S. Jessie is at school while I am writing this. If you are not too tired, please write us a long letter.

Mary.

THE ILLINOIS HUMANE SOCIETY.

560 Wabash Avenue. (Telephone "Harrison" 384.)

Chartered by the Legislature as the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, March 25th, 1869. Prevention of cruelty to children was joined to its work and its name changed to The Illinois Humane Society, July 5th, 1877.

Its objects are to secure the enactment and enforcement of laws for the prevention of cruelty to Animals and Children, to induce effective action toward the same throughout this State, and by a system of humane education to promote a humane public sentiment.

The spirit and office of the organization is to educate rather than to punish.

The Society is supported chiefly by voluntary contributions; but the Legislature of 1885 authorized the payment of all fines paid in money, imposed through its agency, into its treasury.

The Society is called on continually for a multitude of services outside its legitimate sphere, and is active in giving aid, either material or advisory, to all applicants.

SUMMARY FOR THE YEAR ENDING APRIL 30TH, 1894.

Complaints received and investigated.....	3,195
Children rescued and condition remedied.....	375
Children sent to Charitable Institutions.....	346
Persons prosecuted for cruelty to children.....	41
Persons prosecuted for cruelty to animals.....	53
Horses ordered laid up as unfit for service....	273

THE ILLINOIS HUMANE SOCIETY

Disabled animals removed by ambulance.....	154
Teamsters and others reprimanded.....	680
Abandoned and incurable animals killed.....	319

The Society has erected forty-three Street Fountains throughout the city for the supply of drinking water to persons and animals.

Complaints when received are promptly examined, whether forwarded anonymously or not; but it is requested for obvious reasons that the names of the complainants should be signed to them. The name of the sender is never divulged if requested to be kept secret.

The Society owns its building, at 560 Wabash Ave.

Contributions may be sent to the President or Treasurer or to any member of the Board of Directors.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

Two women, Mamie — and Lillie —, were arrested for cruelty to a dog. The facts appeared that these women had decoyed the dog into their house, swathed its tail in cotton cloth, saturated the whole body with kerosene oil, taken it to the street and then set fire to it. The dog was so fatally injured that it had to be killed. Parties fined, each, $100 and costs.

G. W. —, an old offender, was arrested for working mules unfit for work upon the drainage canal and fined $200 and costs by Justice Everett on August 16th, 1894.

A boy, about 20 years old, was found mutilating dogs by cutting off their ears, apparently as an experiment in vivisection. He was fined $10 and costs.

Ten dollars and costs was the fine imposed on each of three men for working horses in the brick yards with sore shoulders.

W.A. — and Edwin E. — were prosecuted and sentenced to fifteen years each for criminal assault upon their fourteen year old daughters. We placed the girls in an Institution, where they will receive proper training and care.

Complaint was made of the abuse of a girl, five years old, by her father and step-mother, by shutting her up in a closet in the basement of their house, and otherwise abusing her. The man, being willing (or so claiming) to do the best for the welfare of the child, was sent by us to the Chicago Industrial School to make arrangements for the child's admission. Two days afterward, the father desired to place the girl with a private family, to which we consented. When we sought afterward to examine the conditions existing, we learned that the father had taken the girl away to Michigan. We then swore out warrants for the man, his wife and mother-in-law for cruelty to the child, and all three were held to the Criminal Court in $800 bonds each, and the child was returned to the School. The father then asked that the child be placed in custody of this Society; consenting to her adoption by an uncle in Milwaukee, to whom she was committed—upon which and the conveyance of the father's interest in a small property left by the child's mother at the time of her death, we deemed it best to nol. pros. the case, and the Judge so ordered.

ILLINOIS TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

Objects: "To train nurses and to furnish them to the sick and wounded."

The School was organized in 1880. Its 12th annual report shows the total number graduated since its organization as being 259. A superintendent with two assistants, a night superintendent, and 124 pupils were in attendance at the time of last report. During 1892-93, 46 were graduated after a two years' course, receiving diplomas and $100 each in money.

The Bureau of Registration contains 119 names of graduates who are sent out to do private nursing; the calls for such nurses were 1138 during last year. The fee is $5 for registering.

The School supplies the nurses for the Cook County and the Presbyterian Hospitals, and received last year from the former $13,587.33 and from the latter $12,129.36; other receipts were, from annual membership dues, $960; interest, $750; total receipts, $87,518.72. This included a bequest of $50,000 from John Crerar. Expenditures: for hospital expenses, $43,309; for household expenses, $18,717.58, etc.; mortgage loan, $55,000; balance on hand, Oct. 1, '92, $4,494.82. No solicitors are employed. The house is owned.

MRS. J. M. FLOWER, President.

MRS. ORSON SMITH, Treasurer.

MRS. L. L. DOCK, Superintendent.

ILLINOIS INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION.

265 LINCOLN ST. INCORPORATED 1894.

Objects: "To assist well disposed ex-convicts, by providing them work temporarily, and aiding them in finding permanent employment."

No home is furnished the men, but a shop in which the trade of broom-making is carried on, which is always open to give temporary employment, and pays such wages as will enable a man to maintain himself in an honest course of life. Here the superintendent, who has devoted himself to the welfare of the class for whom the Association was formed, for the past seven years, can always be found, and gives a hearty greeting to every one truly desirous of reforming, seeking permanent employment for them as soon as they have demonstrated their sincerity, and giving them kind counsel and words of cheer. No alms, but a friend and work are furnished.

Originally in 1885, this work was founded by some of the present Directors, with others not now identified with it, with the late Michael Dunn, an ex-convict, as Superintendent. A temporary Home was given the men for several years, but that feature of the work has been given up after a thorough trial, the present system being deemed the wiser one.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

M. B. T—— applied for assistance after discharge from a five years' sentence to the penitentiary; he confessed to never having done an honest day's work in his life, having been educated in criminal ways from infancy, but said he wished to abandon such a life and lead an honest one in future. It was a very discouraging case at first, as he seemed incapable of learning any mechanical pursuit; after a short time, however, outside work was secured for him at which he succeeded well, and he soon gained the confidence and esteem of his employers, who promoted him from time to time until he now occupies a responsible position in the business. He married well soon after getting established in his work, has united with the church, and is now an exemplary father and citizen.

K. R—— was known as "a repeater," having served four sentences in penitentiaries, and was considered an incorrigible criminal. Soon after his fourth discharge he applied to the Association for work and was taken in hand; it seemed almost a hopeless task for a time, but kindness won him and for years he has lived an honest and industrious life, providing for his family and educating his children, as well as often "giving a lift to men who are trying to square it."

FREE KINDERGARTEN ASSOCIATION.

ARMOUR MISSION, 33RD ST. AND ARMOUR AVE.
ORGANIZED 1881.

Objects: "To thoroughly prepare young women, free of tuition, to become competent kindergartners; to establish free kindergartens in the most neglected parts of the city."

There are each year about eighty students in the normal class, who give their services in the free kindergartens in the morning as a necessary part of their training, and attend classes in the afternoon. There are under the supervision of the Association twenty-one free kindergartens averaging in attendance from seventy to eighty children each. These kindergartens are located in all parts of the city (See pages 88 and 89) and reach the children of the most destitute classes. As the work is organized, a little money accomplishes much. For instance, $600.00 will pay the salary of the principal of one of these kindergartens for one year, train four or five young women, and begin the education of seventy-five children.

To put it in another way, $4,500.00 will train eighty or more young women, and make the existence of twenty free kindergartens possible by supplying assistant teachers. Donors are asked to send their gifts to the Treasurer, Chicago, Ill., Kindergarten Association, Armour Ave. and 33rd St., without waiting for a personal appeal and thus save the expense of solicitors.

FROEBEL ASSOCIATION.

4815 KENWOOD AVE.

Objects: "To spread the knowledge of Froebel's idea, and to press its claims upon our school authorities and upon our state legislature, in the conviction that three most important habit-making years could be added to the school life of every child."

All but two of its Kindergartens have now been assumed by the Public Schools. The aim of the association has to this extent been realized, the Kindergarten being in its conception the foundation of our educational system and not a "charity." The receipts during 1893 were $4,180.03; disbursements the same. There are no solicitors employed; no endowments or religious affiliations; no property is owned.

CHICAGO KINDERGARTEN COLLEGE.

10 VAN BUREN ST.

"It was organized to meet the demand for more thoroughly trained Kindergartners and Normal Training Teachers. Special emphasis is placed upon the careful study of the 'Mutter und Kose Lieder,' the foundation of the Kindergarten system."

The College is an educational institution conducted on business principles, without endowments, and supported by the tuition charged, as announced in its prospectus.

At the same time it does a large amount of Philanthropic work each year in aiding students, in supporting free Mothers' classes, in training nurses and in maintaining free kindergartens.

The work of the College is subdivided as follows:

Teachers' Department	Literary Department
Mothers' "	Publishing "
Nurses' "	Philanthropic "

The Mothers' Department includes a three years' course of work and study, so arranged as to include each year some part of the Kindergarten system which will aid mothers in the understanding of their children, and give them a command of such kindergarten materials as can best be used in the home. These successive courses will occupy but one morning of each week for 20 weeks of the school year.

Free classes are also established for the training of mothers who have children in the free Kindergartens, which are under the supervision of the College. These classes are conducted by specialists in medicine, domestic economy and hygiene.

The Nurses' Department trains "mothers' assistants," and was organized at the urgent request of mothers who felt the need of trained assistants in their homes.

The Literary Department includes lectures and studies, followed each year by a Literary School. The proceeds of this department, over and above the necessary expenditures, are given to the Philanthropic Department, which has been organized for the purpose of giving to all friends of the Kindergarten an opportunity to aid in its charitable work, especially in the establishing and maintaining of Kindergartens in the poorest districts of the city.

The free Kindergartens under the College are supported by individuals, churches, mothers' associations, etc., the average cost being from $500 to $600.

LAKE GENEVA FRESH-AIR ASSOCIATION.

CHICAGO, ILL.

"The Holiday Home," at Lake Geneva, Wis., belonging to this association, is a "summer resort" for poor children and working girls and mothers residing in or near Chicago. The fourth annual report gives the total number in the Home during 1891 as being 461; of these 135 were "working girls," 162 little girls, and 163 boys. "To prevent the association of the virtuous with the more vicious classes," the report says that last year, "as far as possible, deserving convalescents have been sent out." Its Treasurer's report gives: Receipts, $5,224; disbursements, $4,764; from individual donations, $3,888; from entertainments, etc., $1,471. Provisions and articles of use for the Home were also received. The Association has no endowments or religious affiliations. Because of the prevalence of smallpox in the city the Home was not opened in 1894.

MAURICE PORTER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL FOR CHILDREN.

606 FULLERTON AVE.

Object: "The free care of sick children."

It is especially intended to reach such cases as require special attention on the part of surgeon, physician and trained nurse, such as can not be given at home. All kinds of emergency and non-contagious acute cases are admitted without formality.

The Hospital was founded in 1882; in 1886 the present grounds were purchased and the building erected, especially designed and equipped for hospital services. It accommodates at present 20 children. There are no restrictions of race, creed or nationality. The age of admission is from three to thirteen.

During the past year 68 children have been cared for at the Hospital; 54 were discharged, 14 remain; 35 were surgical and 26 medical cases. Since the organization 232 children have been treated.

There is no formal organization, no endowments, no solicitors. The property is owned and controlled by Mrs. Julia F. Porter, who has also the management and financial support, excepting that three beds are maintained by friends contributing $250 for each.

Kindergarten.

Employment for Mothers

The object of the Crèche is the care during the day of the little children of mothers obliged to work away from home.

It aims through kindness, cleanliness, and a well appointed kindergarten, to educate the children in a desire to become honest, industrious, law-abiding citizens—and to obtain employment for the mothers, enabling them to support their children.

It is open from 6:30 A. M. to 7 P. M.

A charge of ten cents a day is made for one child and five cents for each additional child.

The Crèche had an attendance in 1894 of 11,442, an average of 36.5 a day.

The building and grounds, 2423 Wabash Ave., have been purchased as a home for the Crèche. It is designed to remodel the house, and every effort is being made to raise money for this purpose and it is hoped the home will be ready by May, 1895.

The Crèche is supported by contributions through the members of the Board and from an authorized solicitor, Mrs. S. Kearsey.

No endowments and no religious affiliation.

The receipts for the year 1894 were $3,421.12, the disbursements, $3,464.52.

NEWSBOYS' HOME.

1418 WABASH AVE.

Incorporated 1868 as

The Newsboys' and Bootblacks' Association.

Objects: "To provide a good Christian home for newsboys and bootblacks and other unprotected homeless boys; also to aid them in finding homes and employment in either the city or country."

Free Baths and Laundry occupy the first floor, also the dining-room, school-room, kitchen, wash-room and general play-room. Dormitories occupy the third and fourth floors. The School is in charge of a teacher paid by the board of education.

Admissions to the Home.—All boys not otherwise provided for, and not eligible elsewhere, are received at the Home at any time upon personal application, regardless of color, nationality, creed or occupation. The number of boys received and registered, and which had "full privileges," was 251 during 1893. Those who received "partial privileges," such as bathing, laundering their wearing apparel, receiving and writing letters, leaving packages to be cared for, etc., numbered 249 additionally; whole number cared for, 500.

As the policy is to encourage self-reliance, a charge is made of 15 cents, when able to pay, for breakfast, supper and lodging. Lunch is provided and other care is freely extended when needed on account of sickness or for other causes. The aim is to furnish a home and instruction for homeless boys, who are trying to make their living on the street and elsewhere.

By personal influence and encouragement they are directed to employment, rather than by distinctively industrial training, and thus induced to learn trades and quit roaming.

The Home is supported from interest on investments and small charges paid by the inmates. The receipts for 1891 were $4,998.56; disbursements, $4,981.44. The financial statement for 1893-4 is not furnished. The property is owned; no solicitors are employed; there are no religious affiliations.

The Newsboys' Appeal, an illustrated paper, is published by the managers of the Home. It is sold only by subscription.

OLD PEOPLE'S HOME.

INDIANA AVE. AND 39TH STREET.

Object: "To provide a home for old people without regard to race, creed, or nationality, who have never been public paupers and ought not to be treated as such, and who are pecuniarily unable to provide for themselves."

The age of beneficiaries is sixty years; in special cases fifty-five years, and upwards. The admission fee is $300 and furniture for one room. The 21st annual report shows the number of inmates in 1893-4 to be 66. The Home accommodates only women.

Eight applicants were admitted and many were refused because of want of accommodations.

The receipts in 1893-4 were $23,809.77. Expenditures in 1890, $13,220.95. Receipts from cash donations in 1893-4, $4,398; from bequests and endowments, $19,411.54; through solicitors, $1,360.50. The net assets are $267,992—$123,500 in buildings and grounds, and $146,492 in interest-bearing investments.

The religious affiliations are Protestant.

"The work of the Protective Agency is carried on by voluntary contributions made by interested friends. Since 1890 the members of the governing board, of which there are not less than twenty-one, pledged themselves to raise $100 annually, besides the $5 membership fee. The sum thus raised, with some regular contributions from friends, averages $2,635.25. The Agency employs a firm of lawyers for the necessary court and legal work, and their pay, with rent of rooms and salaries of agent and assistants, comprise the larger part of the running expenses.

"Advice and legal services are given without charge. The character of the work changes noticeably from year to year. There is a constantly increasing tendency towards the quiet and thoughtful adjustment of difficulties. The advisory features are considered the most helpful and hopeful indications."

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

A mother with five small children, deserted by a worthless husband, wished to follow him to S. Dakota. She was advised by the Agency not to do so. She rented two rooms and took in washing until spring, when her health broke down, and she was obliged to place her three children in the Half Orphan Asylum. In August she found work in a shoe factory in South Chicago, and Mrs. Moulton, the assistant agent, lent her five dollars to move her poor belongings there. Six weeks after she returned the money, saying she has no fear for the future, as her children are with her in a comfortable home, and adding: "It's you folks did it, putting heart in me so often when I could not go on alone."

A Polish man deserted his wife shortly before her confinement. After many fruitless arrests, she came to the Agency, which forced him to support his family.

An ignorant, helpless woman, deserted by her husband, sold her furniture, thinking to pay the mortgage on it and have something besides. She did not receive enough, and all her bedding and clothing for self and three small children was seized and she threatened with arrest. She had really paid all lawful payments on her mortgage, and by the Agency's interference her goods were restored to her by the company, and her mortgage canceled. We also procured her and her three children tickets to Pittsburg, where she has friends.

PUBLIC BATHS.

(Carter Harrison)

192 MATHER STREET.

These baths were opened Jan. 10, 1894, in a building erected for the purpose by the city at an expense of $12,000.

There are 17 shower baths and a natatorium. Two days are set apart for women and girls, four for men and boys. There are accommodations for 500 persons a day, but its capacity is very much over-taxed. Twenty thousand baths are taken monthly, each bather being allowed 10 minutes.

The enterprise is municipal, supported and controlled by the City Council, promoted by Dr. Arthur Reynolds, Health Commissioner, Alderman Madden and the Municipal Order League.

THOMAS K. FORMAN, Superintendent.

PROVIDENT HOSPITAL AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

CORNER 29TH AND DEARBORN STS. INCORPORATED
FEB., 1891.

Objects: "First, the proper caring for the sick and injured; and, secondly and especially, the opening of a new field of useful and noble employment for colored women, who are otherwise barred from lucrative and respectable occupations."

From May 4th, 1891, the date of the opening, to June 1st, 1894, the number of patients treated were 526, an average of 175 per year. The total number of days of sickness were 9,135, and the daily average number of patients were 8.

The 3rd annual report shows: 197 patients treated during the year, 1893-94; of these 152 were Afro-Americans, 10 Irish, 8 Germans, 26 other nationalities; 128 were discharged as recovered, 47 as improved, 3 as not improved, and 19 died.

The Graduating Class for the year consisted of six nurses, and there are now seven nurses undergoing a course of training in the School and Hospital, covering 18 months. There have been forty-five applicants desiring to become pupil nurses; because of want of accommodation only four were accepted. Eight calls for nurses for private duty, received and answered.

Receipts, June 1st, 1894, from donations and endowments, $2,533.30; from patients, $2,881.50. Expenditures, $6,045.48. Three beds are endowed by H. H. Kohlsaas, F. D. Haskell and P. D. Armour.

SCHOOL CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

158 WEST MONROE STREET.

Old High School Building, near Halsted St. Telephone 1559 Main.

Object: "To clothe destitute children in order that they may attend the public school decently and comfortably clad."

The society was organized in 1889 by Mrs. Katharine E. Tuley, when the law on compulsory education was first enacted. The work is under the supervision of the Woman's Club, two representatives being appointed from each of its six departments.

The Society presents to the public the following report of its work, commencing Nov. 7th, 1893, and ending March 13th, 1894, when it closed its work for the year: During this time it has clothed 4,200 children.

The names of the children, ages, nationality, occupation and income of parents, name of school the children attend, number of garments given, and other facts considered necessary are entered in a day-book and kept for reference.

The following goods have been purchased and distributed by the Society during the season:

Shoes,	pairs.....	3,416
Stockings,	pairs.....	4,645
Drawers	} Underwear, pairs.....	3,906
Vests		3,916
Boys' suits.....		1,297
Mittens (special fund) pairs		48
Dress goods and skirtings, yards.....		3,070
Linings for same, yards.....		609
Gingham for aprons, yards.....		783

All of the dresses, skirts and aprons were made either at the Women's Emergency Rooms or by ladies' societies, free of charge.

The cash receipts of the Society for the year were $7,570.46, the disbursements the same. As no salaries are paid, the running expenses have been, not counting printing and postage, $43.55.

The Board of Education assists the Society. It authorized the Thanksgiving collection from the public schools, which gives it its largest revenues, $3,736.58. It furnishes a distributing room, with heat and janitor service, and since November has delivered all the clothing that the Society has sent to the schools.

Besides the clothing purchased by the Society, large quantities have been donated by individuals, societies, and merchants from other cities as well as our own; 400 garments having been contributed by one society. The Society has set "Charity Globes" in many places of business, similar to those of "The Daily News Fresh Air Fund."

At Christmas the West End Woman's club raised $185.00, with which it purchased shoes and stockings for the Poik St. school. It has also expended $150.00 for shoes and stockings and $50 for underwear and boys' suits for the Brainard, Goodrich, Tilden, Foster and Walsh schools; and lastly, it has given employment, in making clothes for school children, to fifty-three destitute women in their own homes at $2.00 per week. The money thus spent in material and wages amounts to $700.00, making a total of $1,085.00

THE ARMOUR INSTITUTE.

COR. 33RD. ST. AND ARMOUR AVE.

Mission.

Kindergarten.

Dispensary.

These charities are connected with the Armour Institute.

The principal feature of the Armour Mission is a large Sunday School, with an enrollment of 2,200, and an average attendance for the year 1893, of 1,656 scholars. It emphasizes the care and training of children and youth. A special service for children is held each Sunday morning. There is a young men's association, the Saturday Night Club organized for literary and social purposes, and a similar young women's club. Mothers' Meetings are held regularly for the improvement of the home life. The Armour Battalion is composed of three companies of boys, numbering 150, which gives a military drill and aims to build up habits of sobriety and purity. A girl's corps has two companies of 70, with a drill and physical and moral culture. All the privileges of the mission are free.

REV. DUNCAN C. MILNER is its Pastor.

The Kindergarten accommodates about 150 pupils from 3 to 6 years, and has a superintendent and ten teachers. It is free and open daily from 9. A. M. to 12 M., excepting Saturdays and Sundays.

The Dispensary is open daily except Sundays, from 9 to 11 A. M., to all who are unable to pay for medicines or medical advice. An average of about 60 patients are treated daily, free of charge. During the year ending May 1st, 1894, 13,707 persons received treatment, at a cost of about $2,000; 162 cases were treated at their homes.

The Institute is erected on a site adjoining the Mission, at an expense of $250,000. It is a Technological School, with departments for Academic training and also for instruction in dress-making, cooking and domestic science. All who are able are expected to pay tuition. Special arrangements are made for qualified students unable to pay, as it is not a free school.

The investments in property and equipment of the buildings of the Armour Institute, Mission, and "Flats" aggregate more than $1,500,000. The income from the 213 department buildings is devoted to and supports the entire enterprise. Mr. Joseph F. Armour made a bequest of $100,000 for a building devoted to the training and care of children. His brother, Philip D. Armour, has increased this with donations of his own. The Mission has been duly incorporated and the property deeded in trust to a Board of Directors consisting of:

THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS FRESH-AIR FUND.

123 FIFTH AVE. INCORPORATED JAN. 3, 1894.

Sanitarium for Sick Babies in Lincoln Park.

"The Country Week" work of the Fresh-Air Fund was suspended during the season of 1894, because of the prevalence of smallpox in the Chicago districts from which thousands of "Country Weekers" have been selected during former seasons. This feature of fresh-air mercy will be resumed during the summer of 1895.

The Daily News Sanitarium for sick babies closed for the 1894 season on Saturday, Sept. 29, with the greatest record in the history of fresh-air work in this country, showing the eighth season of the Fund very much the most successful since its inauguration. During the ninety-five days making up the sixteen weeks (less July 4), from Monday, June 11, to Saturday, Sept. 29, there came to the Sanitarium 10,560 sick babies, 14,179 mothers, 37,635 children and 59,995 visitors, a grand total of 122,369 persons, making the daily average of 1,288. During 1893, when the World's Fair dominated Chicago, the attendance for the corresponding sixteen weeks was: Sick babies, 8,958; mothers, 11,530; children, 24,364; visitors, 106,175, a grand total of 131,037—daily average, 1,573. It will be seen that while the World's Fair season brought 46,180 more visitors than during the 1894 season, the record for 1894 shows an increase of 17,522 babies, mothers and children over 1893, and represents the enormous growth of the work of mercy in one year.

Of the 10,560 babies cared for during the 1894 season, 2,340 were serious cases given full hospital treatment, of which detailed histories are recorded in the house physicians' journal. No record was kept of transient treatment administered in the hammock court and pavilion. The death list for 1894 numbers nineteen, four babies having died in the Sanitarium and fifteen at their homes after having been treated one or more times. The law requires that the physician last treating a patient must give the death certificate, and so it happened that in a majority of the fifteen deaths above noted the patients were brought to the Sanitarium in a dying condition after the family physician had exhausted his resources, and expired after having been cared for only one day.

Outside of medical treatment and nursing, the Daily News Fresh-Air Fund gave food and clothing to many thousands of helpless mothers and children and fitted out for school something over 160 boys and girls who would otherwise have been unable to go.

The Daily News Sanitarium in Lincoln Park is the largest structure of its class in the world, being 100 feet in width and 200 feet deep, built on a system of piles over the lake. The cost of building, and equipment for the first season's work, was about $13,000. At the time of preparing this report the financial statement for 1894 is not ready, but the public contribution will approximate $10,000, while the Daily News will be called upon to pay about

LINCOLN PARK SANITARIUM.

$2,500 for printing, postage, clerical help and other expenses of administration. No funds contributed by the public are used to pay for any part of the administration of the Fresh-Air Fund. This charity is supported by the voluntary contribution of the people, very largely through "The Children's Charity Globes," which are familiar to Chicago residents, more than 500 of these globes being placed in business houses.

At the Sanitarium everything is absolutely free. Mrs. Mary Gross Canfield is the matron. There are no endowments, no religious affiliations, and no solicitors are employed. Any person soliciting money or goods, or favors of any sort, in the name of the Daily News Fresh-Air Fund is a fraud and should be turned over to the police. No officer receives compensation for his services out of the "Fund."

The board of counsel and audit is made up of Gen. Joseph Stockton, Henry Greenebaum and J. H. McVicker. The administration of the Daily News Fresh Air Fund is vested in the following Board of Directors:

VICTOR F. LAWSON, President.

CHARLES M. FAYE, Secretary and General Manager.

H. M. DEWEY, Treasurer.

THE CHICAGO RED CROSS SOCIETY.

INCORPORATED, AUG. 22, 1894.

Free Hospital for Babies and Mothers.

Object: The Chicago Red Cross Society was formed for the purpose of building a hospital for babies and their mothers, to supplement the summer work of the Daily News Sanitarium in Lincoln Park. A large site worth $60,000 has been secured conditionally by the president, and $60,000 additional will be subscribed for the building, which will be located in the west division of the city. It is confidently expected that the hospital will be ready for occupancy Nov. 1, 1895.

There are no religious affiliations. The hospital will be absolutely free of all charge to its patients.

The officers are as follows, the first five constituting the board of managers for the first year:

CHARLES M. FAYE, President.

ALBERT G. BEAUNISNE, Vice-President.

WILHELMINA WERNER, Secretary.

JAMES LANGLAND, Treasurer.

MARY GROSS CANFIELD, Matron.

LOUIS L. GREGORY, Chief of Medical Staff.

THE HOME OF DESTITUTE CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

SOUTH-EAST CORNER OF PARK AVE. AND PAULINA ST., 46 PARK AVE.

Objects: 1. To provide a home for destitute crippled children and secure for them the comforts of life.

2. To restore the use of limb, correct deformity, and ameliorate the sufferings of the incurable in as far as it can be done by the skill and wisdom of the most able orthopedic surgeons and physicians.

3. To cultivate and improve the mental capacity by practical and judicious education.

4. To develop by careful training any talent for handicraft that may give a purpose in life and render the inmates at least partially self-supporting.

The property of the Home consists of a large two-story basement brick house with two-story barn, erected on a lot 120 x 130 feet, on the south-east corner of Park Avenue and Paulina Street. There are also fourteen building lots for the country home at Ellsworth Park, 9 miles from the City Hall.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

A girl 13 years old received some injury while working for a family and was removed to Cook County Hospital, where her right limb was amputated. As she could not remain at the hospital and had no friends, she was received into the Home, sent to school, an artificial limb procured, and afterwards provided with a good home in a private family.

A little boy 2 years old was hydrocephalic, and so greatly reduced by abscesses and chronic diarrhœa, as to be pronounced incurable at the Home for the Friendless, where he had been cared for. Under medical and constitutional treatment he became a fine, healthy and attractive boy, and has been taken into a family of most excellent people.

Eddie, a seven-year-old boy; paralytic club-foot of left side. Operated upon, cured and discharged.

Arthur, a six-year-old boy with Dorsal Pott's disease of the spine. Admitted January 1st, 1894. Provided with a spinal brace and his condition greatly improved.

Hugo, a three-year-old boy, was in a rachetic condition and so weak and emaciated he could not stand alone. After six months of treatment he was returned to his parents a perfectly healthy child.

The work is without sectarian affiliations. In the admission of children there is no discrimination on account of race, color, creed, or nationality. Imbeciles, epileptics, and children with contagious diseases are ineligible. Boys over 12 years of age and girls over 15 cannot be admitted except by special permission.

The Home is supported by the contributions of the benevolent.

During the four years of the existence of the Home, 82 children have been cared for, 45 returned to friends or placed in private homes. The present capacity is between 40 and 50, and two hundred applications have been filed.

THE CIVIC FEDERATION OF CHICAGO.

Incorporated Feb. 3, 1894.

Object: "A non-partisan, non-sectarian association, inviting the co-operation of all the forces that are now laboring to advance the municipal, philanthropic, industrial and moral interests of Chicago."

CENTRAL RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

51-53 La Salle St.

Objects: "The purposes of the Association as formulated at its organization at The Auditorium Hotel December 12, 1893, were to raise funds to meet the then existing emergency; to disburse them as far as practicable through existing public and charitable agencies; to ascertain the need of the unemployed, and to secure co-operation in extending the needed relief."

The immediate occasion was the presence in the city at the close of the World's Fair of thousands of unemployed men, many hundreds of whom were without food or lodging and crowded at night into the corridors of the City Hall and into the various police stations. In the early fall a Citizens' Committee, appointed by the mayor, later the Conference of Charities and then the Civic Federation, attempted to arouse the public conscience to the extreme emergency there was upon the community, and the need of prompt action in the way of relief. The leaders of these and several other organizations met at the time and place above named, organized the Central Relief Association and authorized Mr. T. W. Harvey, the chairman of the meeting, to select 50 representative men for the purposes above set forth. Executive officers and sub-committees representing the various industries were duly elected. The work of the Association has been conducted along the following lines:

The Registration Department prepared a list by name and street number of 23,877 families applying for relief to the charitable organizations of the city. Its information is at the service of any one showing a legitimate interest in any given case. Its cost June 20, 1894, had been $4,313.58.

The District Department organized the city, in part, into districts for local visitation and relief. Each neighborhood with its churches was invited to look after the cases of destitution within its boundaries and assume the distribution of the needed aid.

The Reference Department received applicants for aid of whatever description and directed them to the proper channels for relief; as it was the policy of the Association to have the needed aid given, when possible, through already existing charities, to whose reports reference is made for information concerning this indirect work.

The Transportation Department secured free and reduced R.R. transportation. More than 500 persons were thus aided at a saving to the applicants of some $5,000.

The Supplies Department purchased to the value of $14,945.33 provisions, flour, coal, etc., for the use of the kitchens and for free distribution through the supply stations of the various districts, and 14,074 articles of clothing, costing $6,324.71.

The Meals and Lodgings Department, in payment for work done, and upon the presentation of the Associations' tickets, gave 462,084 meals at its three kitchens and 232,066 lodgings at twenty-one down-town lodging houses.

The Employment Department gave men work at sweeping the streets. Each single man was allowed regularly three hours a day and paid at the rate of 10 cents an hour, but in tickets redeemable in meals and lodgings or in clothing, if for an extra hour's overtime. Married men were given more work, and their tickets were good for provisions. 4,500 men, of whom some 1,000 were married, were thus employed for an average of about two months at a cost of $81,442.83, or an average of $18.00 each.

This Bureau also for a few weeks upon the closing of the street work sent out to farms 10 families, 12 orphans, and 40 single men, at an expense to the Association of $346.70, less than $5.00 per capita.

One family was sent to central Illinois, to work on a farm; a week later a call came from a neighboring farmer for the wife's sister, a widow with two children, and a few weeks after this the aged parents, with an unmarried son, were offered by the first farmer a cottage with several acres of land at a nominal rental, transplanting thus the whole tribe from poverty to plenty.

CHICAGO WOMAN'S CLUB EMERGENCY ASSOCIATION.

Object: "To give employment to women." Nine sewing rooms were started in various parts of the city, in which needy women and girls were paid 50 cents per day for seven hours' work and given a nourishing luncheon at noon.

Total number given sewing to do was 1,478.

In connection with the New Era sewing rooms and that of the Friendly Aid Society, immediate relief committees were formed, assisting 300 families.

There were sent from the Women's Club rooms, for temporary or permanent places, 132 women; to industrial homes 28. From the Household Economics Association, there were sent to places 195 women.

This work was done at an expense of about $19,000.00, $4,250.00 of which was from funds of Central Relief Association; balance was contributed direct to the Women's Clubs. The names and addresses of all these persons were sent to the Central Relief office, where they are on file.

Thousands of garments were made in these sewing rooms for the School Children's Aid Society and for various charitable institutions and hospitals throughout the city. Bed quilts, sheets, pillow cases, babies' wardrobes, etc., were made and distributed to poor women.

21 SOUTH PEORIA ST.

The Minnetonka Home, 21 S. Peoria St.

The Minnetonka Free Dispensary, 414 W Madison St.

The Minnetonka Free Fresh Air Cottage, Lake Bluff, Ill.

The Minnetonka Home, 21 S. Peoria St. Incorporated and established April, 1890.

Object: "To maintain a lodging and boarding house where working-women can find a comfortable and respectable home at a moderate price." Its aim is to give protection to women, strangers in the city, and to help those willing to help themselves to live comfortably. It assists a large number to find employment free of charge, and tries by counsel and using every influence to help those under its care.

The Association added to the building it occupies last year and furnished the whole with sanitary appliances and steam heat, and with a special boiler to supply its bath-rooms with an abundance of warm water.

The Home can accommodate about 40 persons. During last year it received and cared for between 800 and 900. Any respectable applicant is made welcome. Those without any funds are temporarily cared for and assisted to find employment.

The Association received from Board $3,042.74, from donations, including membership fees, $519.84.

ADLER & SULLIVAN ARCHT.
MINNETONKA FREE FRESH AIR COTTAGE.

The household expenses were $3,554.34, leaving a balance of $8.23 in the treasury

The Minnetonka Free Dispensary, 414 W. Madison St., has been established since May, 1893. During the first year of its existence hundreds received medical care at the dispensary or were visited at their homes. Nearly 600 were vaccinated and 17 surgical cases were successfully treated. MRS. LUELLA DAY-UNDERHILL, Day Superintendent.

The Minnetonka Fresh Air Cottage, Lake Bluff.

The plan of sending women, weary with a year's toil, out for a week's outing was tried last year. A cottage was rented and over 100 girls sent out. This year a tract of 200 feet frontage was purchased at Lake Bluff, and a cottage built capable of accommodating about 60 girls at a time. Any working girl in Chicago is made a welcome visitor and receives the free use of room, with dining-room and kitchen fully furnished. They also have the privileges of bathing-houses, hammocks, reading matter, and other arrangements made for their comfort and pleasure. Each girl must buy and cook her own food and observe the rules governing the cottage, for mutual advantage and protection.

Applications for rooms should be made to the Association at 21 S. Peoria St.

VISITING NURSE ASSOCIATION.

ROOM 1116 MASONIC TEMPLE.

Object: "To furnish skilled attendance to the sick poor; to promote cleanliness and to teach proper care of the sick."

This association was incorporated in November, 1890. It employs nine trained nurses, wearing special costumes. During the year from December, 1892, to December, 1893, the report shows, the association cared for 2,579 different patients and made 16,580 visits. The visits are limited to 40 minutes' duration. They are made not only to the very poor, but to those living on incomes which do not enable them to employ a paid nurse.

The nurses often assist physicians in surgical cases, of which there were 211 last year. The maternity cases numbered 615. There were 115 cases of infectious fevers; 172 patients were sent to hospitals; 65 per cent of the patients were given emergency relief, food, medicine, clothing, etc.; others were referred to relief societies. The Association has no religious affiliations; employs no solicitor; owns no property; has no endowments.

Its receipts for 1893 were $13,141.06. Its disbursements were $10,153.16 Its support is from voluntary contribution.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

The following are four of eleven cases aided in one day, by one of the nine nurses.

Third case—Italian boy with burnt leg. Limb dressed.

Fifth case—Baby with bronchitis. Mother instructed about giving bath and oil rub and preparing pneumonia jacket. Note sent to free doctor to attend case, order given to have necessary prescription filled.

Sixth case—Jewish woman, just confined. Temperature and pulse taken and recorded, douche given by doctor's written orders, half bath and alcohol rub, hair combed, bed made, cup of cocoa prepared, baby washed and dressed, room swept and tidied. (Sheets, pillowslips and infant's outfit loaned at this place.)

Tenth case—Boy, with hip disease. Wound dressed.

WASHINGTONIAN HOME.

566 TO 572 W. MADISON ST. INCORPORATED FEB., 1867.

Object: "The care, cure and reclamation of inebriates."

The average length of stay in the Home is from four to eight weeks, the charge for board and care being from $10 to $15 per week for the first week and from $5 to $10 per week thereafter.

Over 10,500 patients have received the benefits of the institution since its organization. Many of these are now in prominent situations in business and professional life. The treatment is medical and moral—pathological, having, it is believed, no ill effects. It is based on thirty-one years of experience.

Residents of Cook County who are not able to pay are treated free of charge to the extent of the capacity and means of the Association.

The Martha Washington Home, N. E. Corner Western and Graceland Aves., is the female department of the Washingtonian Home Association, and under the same management.

The number of inmates in the two Homes during 1893 was 1626. Receipts $33,590.78; expenditures $35,783.37. The support is from pay patients and investments. No solicitors are employed.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

The second patient, admitted December 24, 1863, was an editor, and considered one of the worst drunkards in the State in which he lived. He had sacrificed everything he had upon the altar of Bacchus.

He was in the Home for nearly three months, when he returned with a "record" marked good on the books, and immediately engaged in publishing a sprightly paper and has continued in this business up to the present time. During these years he has represented his State in its legislature, occupied the position of judge for a number of years, was a Grand Representative of the I. O. O. F. from his State, at the head of a State temperance organization, and is still publishing his paper, and has all along these years been active in the cause of total abstinence, and true to his pledge.

In August, 1867, a gentleman aged 42, married, and a portrait painter, was admitted into the Home, and discharged March, 1868. He was in a very debilitated condition, but very much interested in his reformation. His family was separated from him through his dissipation, and it was a source of the deepest regret. He was an excellent artist and devoted his time up to his death faithfully to his calling. True to his pledge to the last, he died in 1889.

In one of our largest railroad offices in this city two railroad men met. The one controlled the men in the office in which they were, the other in a similar office East. The foreman from abroad said in their conversation, "Do you have any trouble with reformed men?" The reply was, "No, sir, I will not have them around me." Now, the facts were that there were three graduates and four inmates working in that office at that time, who heard the conversation. They consulted together, and the next day told him that they did not wish to sail under false colors, and had come to inform him that they were reformed men, and all had been or were now connected with the Washingtonian Home. "Boys," said he, "is it possible?" "Yes," they replied, "it is true." "Go back to your work," he said, "and keep sober. I do not want any better men."

Hope Dispensary, 242 W. Indiana St.

Florence Crittenden Anchorage for Girls, 125
Plymouth Place.

Talcott Day Nursery, 125 S. Sangamon St.

Kindergarten, 125 S. Sangamon St.

Object: "To promote the cause of temperance, purity and righteousness, not only by the education of public sentiment through public lectures and the distribution of temperance reading, but by direct personal work among the ignorant and unfortunate. For this purpose it has established several missions and charities in the heart of the worst districts of the city."

The Bethesda Day Nursery occupies the upper floor of the three-story building in which the work of the Bethesda Mission is conducted. The nursery cares for from 25 to 40 children daily while their mothers are out at work. When able to pay, a charge of from five to ten cents is made.

The Bethesda Free Kindergarten is held on the lower floor, from 9 A. M. to 12 M. The average attendance is 40. The receipts and disbursements of the Bethesda Mission are about $4,500 annually. Hope Mission Free Dispensary, 242 W. Indiana St

The receipts and disbursements are about $1,200 yearly for this mission.

Florence Crittenden Anchorage for Girls.

125 PLYMOUTH PLACE.

Object: "To care for unfortunate girls who have been led astray, and to protect the innocent and friendless from being led into the haunts of sin of a great city."

During the past year 800 were admitted to the Home, 500 were placed in various positions, 75 innocent girls were sent home, 3 were married, and 100 young mothers and babes were cared for. Some of these were sent to hospitals, and when able were found situations with their babes. No charge is made for board or other benefits. The receipts and disbursements of the Home are about $2,200 annually.

Talcott Mission, 125 S. Sangamon St.

A Day Nursery is conducted by this Mission, open from 6 A. M. to 7 P. M., for the children of poor working mothers.

Free Kindergarten instruction is given from 9 A. M. to 12 M.

An Industrial School is held every Saturday afternoon, and in the evening meetings for the parents of the neighborhood, who are often visited and helped, placing the sick in hospitals and striving to reclaim the debased.

The past year the Home has accommodated an average of 33 children daily. Older children are often placed in industrial schools through the courts. Last year the Mission gave 13,841 meals. The receipts and disbursements were about $2,600.

Besides these regular missions, the Chicago Central W. C. T. U. carries on several departments of work. The Flower Mission Department sends flowers to the hospitals every week.

The entire cost of the several missions carried on by the Chicago Central Woman's Christian Temperance Union is about $10,800 annually.

The affiliations of all the W. C. T. U. Missions are Protestant. There are no endowments and no paid solicitors. The work is supported by free contributions from friends of the poor.

The officers of the Central W. C. T. U. are:

MRS. MATILDA B. CARSE, President.

MRS. MARGARET HOWELL, Vice-President.

MRS. MINNIE B. HORNING, Cor. Secretary.

MRS. F. L. FAKE, Rec. Secretary.

MRS. ROBERT L. GREENLEE, Treasurer.

TEMPERANCE HOSPITAL.

YOUNG WOMEN'S HOME.

4328 GREENWOOD AVENUE.

This Home was opened the 15th of January, 1894, the object being to protect and care for some portion of the large number of young women who at that time had lost their positions as clerks, book-keepers, stenographers, etc., through the financial cloud which had fallen so heavily upon many of our business houses.

The Home is free to respectable young women who are without employment, money, or friends in the city.

Up to date, Oct. 1st, 1894, one hundred and six different persons have availed themselves of the shelter and comfort here afforded. These have entered and left as their needs required. No servants are hired, each member of the family bearing her share in household duties and the care of the home.

There is also a department opened in which homeless young women and girls employed on salaries of $5.00 per week and under may be supplied with all the benefits of the Home (including use of laundry), for such amount as they can afford, leaving them a portion of their small earnings, in every case, for other needful uses.

The financial accounts of the Home stand as follows: From January 15th, 1894, to October 1st:
Receipts—Cash Donations.....$496.85
Receipts for Board and Lodging.....$10.50
Expenditures, $503.64; for rent, $245; for salaries, $136.50; for other current expenses, $122.14.
Cash balance in hand, $3.71. Balance due on rent, $55.00. SOPHIE B. MCNEAL, Superintendent.

SPECIAL CHARITIES.

GERMAN SOCIETY OF CHICAGO.

(Deutsche Gesellschaft von Chicago.)

49 LASALLE STREET.

"The objects of this Society are: In all possible ways to assist the German immigrants, chiefly by information and advice; to protect them by moral influence, and if necessary, by the laws against ill-treatment, imposition and swindling; to provide work for them and to assist them to continue their journey; to restore to them their lost baggage; to provide for the sick, free of charge, medical advice and medicine, and furnish those who are needy and in distress with material aid, as far as the means of the Society will permit.

"Such aid and assistance shall also, as above indicated, be tendered those Germans who are already residents of the United States, and according to the judgment of the competent officers of the Society, such immigrants as may come from the neighboring States of Germany, and who have no representation here."

There were 984 applicants for relief during 1893; 851 were granted, by the German Society, 42 referred to other benevolent societies, and 91 were refused after careful examination had proved the applicants to be regular beggars, idlers or impostors. Aid was granted to families who were in need owing to the following causes:

Death of the head of the family.....	119
Death of the mother.....	2
Sickness of the head of the family.....	159
Sickness of the mother or children.....	48
Desertion of the family.....	61
Want of means and work.....	165
Old age and infirmity.....	31

TO SINGLE PERSONS.

Sickness and inability to work.....	83
Want of means and work.....	150
Old age and infirmity.....	33

Coal was furnished in 53 cases, and board and lodging paid for in 62 cases. Three sick persons received medical aid and medicine, while 23 were admitted to hospitals through its agency. Thirteen persons received legal protection and advice, and in three cases lost baggage was recovered. Thirty-two persons were recommended to the County Agent for admittance to the poor-house.

There were received 648 letters for emigrants. The Society has no religious affiliations, and is supported by the members, of which there are about 900, the annual fees, $4 and upwards, being collected by the collector of the Society. Its average annual receipts are about $5,500. It owns no buildings, but $32,900 in interest-bearing investments.

Extract from the last report of the German Society:

"There are many reticent men and women who will rather starve than apply for aid, but, on the other hand, there are still more who could very well earn a living for themselves and for those who depend on them, but who are not ashamed to accept support from benevolent societies instead of working, always repeating the old story about hard times, and never providing for them.

"Nothing is easier and cheaper than to grant a beggar a little aid without caring whether he deserves it or not, but the Society believes it to be its duty towards its fellow men, not to deprive a worthy poor man of its assistance for the sake of a professional beggar. It does not wish to increase the number of the latter class of people by supporting and aiding them. It thinks it but just, that it thoroughly investigate each case and give assistance only to those who really deserve it; in order not to waste the resources of the Society upon unworthy persons."

GERMAN OLD PEOPLE'S HOME.

HARLEM, COOK COUNTY, ILL.
(ALTENHEIM. INCORPORATED 1885.)

WORLD'S FAIR MEDAL AWARDED.

Objects: "To establish and maintain a home for aged Germans."

The Home is a spacious building, accommodating 84 inmates, males and females. There are also hospital and laundry buildings. Twenty acres of land are owned and cultivated. "No paupers or former inmates of the Poor-house are admitted. The inmates of Altenheim are always led to feel that they are in their own Home, and have every inducement to enjoy truly and peaceably its many advantages."

The age of admission is from 60 years and upwards. An admission fee of $300 is required for the age of 60 to 65; $250 from 65 to 70; from 70 to 75, $200, and any age above 75, $150. Other conditions are a three years' residence in Cook County, and a good character. It is regretted that many worthy applicants can not gain admittance, because more room and greater means are not at hand.

The support is from endowments, $71,200, donations, entertainments and the membership fees of two societies, one of men (Herren Verein), one of women (Frauen Verein). The fees are collected by a salaried agent. No solicitor is employed. There are no religious affiliations.

Receipts since organization, 1883, $249,764.35; disbursements, $174,770.31. Receipts from Nov., 1892, to Nov., 1893, $33,853.00, including legacy of $10,000; disbursements, $11,958.

Contributors to the endowment fund are: C. Seipp, and heirs; P. Schoenhoven; Charles Wacker; A. C. Hesing; John Buehler; Carter H. Harrison; Gerhardt Foremann; Charles Kosminsky, and others.

Altenheim was awarded a medal by the World's Fair Commission for an exhibit of Photographic Views and Reports of the Institution, which gave "evidence of a charity well organized and administered." It also received an official letter of thanks from the Illinois Woman's Exposition Board for exhibits of "Fancy Work and Sewing," made by its old female inmates, ranging in age from 70 to 94.

The two Societies have their own officers and elect annually a number of directors, these together forming the governing Board of Altenheim.

Object: "To extend relief and aid to worthy Norwegian families."

This Society is incorporated, and has been in operation for five years. It expended last winter some $1,500. It is without sectarian affiliations. No salaries are paid to any of its officers, and no solicitor is employed.

ILLINOIS ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.

ROOM 7, 81 S. CLARK STREET. INCORPORATED 1853.

Object: "To relieve all deserving Scotch with cash, provisions, clothing, fuel and transportation, also to bury their dead in their lot at Rosehill Cemetery." The objects of the Society are attended to by a Board of Managers, consisting of five members, of which Wm. Inglis is Chairman.

Membership—None but Scotchmen, or the sons or grandsons of a native of Scotland shall be admitted as members of the Society. Meetings are held on first Thursday of Feb., May, August and Nov. of each year. The Society's receipts for 1893 were about $2,000, and disbursements $1,300. The receipts for the first nine months of 1894 were $1800, and disbursements $2300. Its support is from dues, donations and the proceeds of an annual banquet.

Neither sectarianism nor politics is allowed as a test of membership, nor as subjects of discussion at the meetings of the Society; no solicitors are employed; no property is owned; its deposits are invested in government bonds.

ST. GEORGE'S BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.

510 MASONIC TEMPLE.

"The objects of this Association, through its members, shall be: To give advice to English immigrants; to provide for the social intercourse and mutual improvement of its members; to visit the sick, bury the dead, assist the widows and orphans of deceased members, and, at its discretion, to grant relief to any person of English parentage, not members of this Association; provided always, that all applicants for relief shall be of good moral character. The members of this Association shall consist of Englishmen, and the sons of Englishmen."

The association contains a membership of about 250 persons, paying a fee of $3 each. Meetings are held on the first Monday of each month at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

Last year's disbursements for relief were $142.16, besides the special appropriations spent to aid in returning English people home. Employment was often secured. No salary is paid to any officer of the Association, and no solicitors are employed. The Association has $5,000 invested in funds and property, the revenues of which, with contributions of its members, constitute its relief fund. A valuable lot is owned in Rose Hill Cemetery, where Englishmen dying destitute are buried.

49 LASALLE ST., OFFICE OF GERMAN SOCIETY.

Object: "To assist (exclusively) indigent Swiss people, either immigrants, or those born here, but of Swiss descent, with pecuniary relief, or hospital care and otherwise."

During 1891, 122 persons and 5 families were aided financially, 61 persons were given meal and lodging tickets, 6 families received coal, and others shoes, railroad tickets, and loans in some cases. To secure the needed care for the sick, an annual appropriation of $75 is made to the Alexian Brothers' Hospital. The "German Society" investigates the applicants of the Swiss Society when desired.

Receipts for 1891, $1,305; disbursements, $787. No solicitor is employed. The support is from yearly subsidies from the different cantons of the Swiss Confederation—averaging $100 a year—and from voluntary donations from the members of the Society, ranging from $3 to $20 yearly. The property owned by the Society consists of two lots, partially improved. There are no endowments or religious affiliations.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

Headquarters, Room 37, 80 Washington St.

There are forty G. A. R. Posts in Cook County. They all do more or less relief work, but are patriotic rather than charitable organizations.

The total disbursements in relief throughout the State was $10,489.25, through the various treasurers, and about $10,000 additionally otherwise. There are 623 Posts. No solicitors are employed. There are in Chicago no organizations doing relief work, in good faith, for needy soldiers or their widows and orphans other than the G. A. R. Posts, the Woman's Relief Corps, ladies of the G. A. R., the Soldiers' Home, and the Illinois Woman's Soldiers' Home.

All soliciting of funds for old soldiers is forbidden by and forfeits membership in the G. A. R. and public confidence.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS,

AUXILIARY OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.
Room 412, 70 State St.

Objects.

"1. To specially aid and assist the Grand Army of the Republic and to perpetuate the memory of their heroic dead.

"2. To assist such Union veterans as need our help and protection, and to extend needful aid to their widows and orphans. To find them homes and employment, and assure them of sympathy and friends. To cherish and emulate the deeds of our army nurses, and of all loyal women who rendered loving service to our country in her hour of peril

"3. To maintain true allegiance to the United States of America; to inculcate lessons of patriotism and love of country among our children and in the communities in which we live; and encourage the spread of universal liberty and equal rights to all."

Woman's Relief Corps are composed of mothers, wives, daughters and sisters of Union soldiers, sailors and marines who aided in putting down the Rebellion, with other loyal women.

The order was organized as a national body at Denver, Colorado, in 1883, with E. Florence Barker of Mass. as its first President, with a membership of less than fifty. Since that time there have been organized thirty-three departments with fifty-five detached corps, making a total membership of 139,981, all working for the Union veteran and his dependent ones. One of the most important features of the work of the order is the interest manifested in the care of the Army Nurses, for whom a National Home is provided and established at Madison, Ohio, supported by the Woman's Relief Corps of the U. S. The National W. R. C. since its organization has expended in relief $1,018,560.25 of which during the last year $170,584.26 was given in assisting 24,742 dependent persons. The Department of Illinois alone during the period beginning March 18, 1893, and extending to May 9, 1894, expended $13,596.20 in relief, exhibiting the growing interest among patriotic women in this work whether they are relatives of the Union soldiers or not. Twenty-five new Corps were organized in Illinois during the last year, and applications for several more are now pending. The officers of the Department of Illinois are as follows:

EMMA R. WALLACE, Department President.

JENNIE BROSS, Department Secretary.

MARY E. McCAULEY, Olney, Ill., Treasurer.

LADIES OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

G. A. R. Hall.

Object: "To unite with loyalty to our country a sisterly love and affection for each other, parallel with the comradeship among the G. A. R.; to honor the memory of our fallen heroes; to perpetuate and keep sacred Memorial Day; to assist the Grand Army in its mission, and encourage and sympathize with them in their work; to aid sick soldiers and sailors and their families; to do all in their power to alleviate suffering; to look after the Soldiers' Homes and Soldiers' Orphans' Homes, and see that children who leave the Homes are provided with proper situations; to watch the public schools and see that the children and youths obtain proper education in the true history of the country, and in the principles of loyalty and patriotism."

The organization, which is national, is composed exclusively of the mothers, wives, sisters, and daughters of the Union soldiers.

The support is from dues, initiation fees, and voluntary contributions. There are no endowments, paid solicitors, or religious affiliations.

The following is their report of their special relief work from Dec. 14th to March 5th, 1894 (not including their general work constantly being carried on).

ILLINOIS SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOME.

Quincy, Adams County, Ill.

Object: "To provide a home and subsistence for honorably-discharged ex-soldiers and ex-sailors who enlisted from Illinois, in the army or navy of the United States during the rebellion, or the Mexican war, or who have since become, and now are residents of the State of Illinois, who may have become disabled through the exigencies of such service, or who, by reason of old age or other disabilities, are disqualified from earning a livelihood, and who, under existing rules, are unable to procure admission to national homes."

One half of the current expenses are borne by the United States, the other by the State.

Average number of inmates during 1893-4, 587.
Expenditures, $139,707.23.

SOLDIERS' HOME IN CHICAGO.

51 and 53 La Salle Street.

The Home was incorporated by a special act of the General Assembly of Illinois, Feb. 28, 1867. In 1879 the Home was discontinued. The corporation devotes, since that date, the income of its investments towards relieving honorably discharged and indigent Illinois soldiers and their widows and children. The relief is in the form of money, from one to ten dollars monthly, or meals, or lodging, or transportation.

An average of about 60 persons are aided monthly.

The total expended for relief was: in 1885, $4,076; in '86, $3,779; in '87, $4,043; in '88, $3,244; in '89, $2,667; in '90, $3,251; in '93, $6,200.10, in 1,182 appropriations. The receipts are from rents and interest on investments. The total net assets are $103,040.50. No solicitors are employed and no salaries paid to any one. Disbursements to applicants are made at the general office of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society every first Saturday of the month. The corporation is without religious affiliations.

HON. THOS. B. BRYAN, President.

ILLINOIS MASONIC ORPHAN'S HOME.

447 CARROLL AVENUE.

Object: "To provide and maintain, at or near the city of Chicago, a Home for the nurture, and intellectual, moral and physical culture, of indigent children of deceased Freemasons of the State of Illinois; and a temporary shelter and asylum for sick or indigent widows of such deceased Freemasons."

The 9th annual report gives the number of inmates, Jan. 31, 1894, as being 40, both boys and girls, ranging from 4 to 16 years of age; 16 were added and six dismissed, and 3 died during 1893. Receipts were $21,548.57; disbursements, $8,433; from board, $1,485; from membership fees, $720; from annual charity ball, $6,354; from third annual picnic, $2,899; from lodges, $2,200. There was a balance on hand of $10,454, and no debt on the Home, which is valued at $45,000. There are no endowments, no solicitors, and no religious affiliations; the entire control is vested in Freemasons by the articles of organization.

As the capacity of the Home was overtaxed, there is an addition being built at a cost of $20,000. It is 45 by 105, three stories and basement. October 1st, 1894, there were 50 children in the Home; all but five were attending the public schools. In June one graduated from the grammar school to become a clerk in one of Chicago's banks.

CHURCH CHARITIES.

In this division of the book are reported the Charities which are in some way affiliated with religious orders or bodies. In some cases, as for instance with the St. Mary's Industrial School at Feehanville, the Archbishop is president ex-officio, in others the management is confined by a provision in the Constitution wholly or in part to the one or other of the religious sects, and in still others the organization stands committed to certain religious forms or doctrines.

Considerable efforts were made to glean the necessary data for a proper presentation of the benevolent activities of the Churches; but the returns have not been sufficiently general to warrant their publication except along certain lines, such as Hospitals, Day Nurseries and Kindergartens. No mention is made of Sewing or Industrial Schools, Ladies' Aid Societies, Sewing Circles, Charitable Unions, Guilds, Clubs, Mothers' Meetings, Girls' Friendly Societies, Ministerial Relief Associations, funds for relief in the pastor's hands, funds for retired clergymen, and for ministers' widows and orphans, etc.

The year books of the various denominations do not give the items of expenditures on account of Charity except as they are included in the total of non-denominational contributions in the column denominated "Miscellaneous Charities," and "Benevolences," embracing gifts to Bible and Tract Societies, etc., as well as expenditures for alms. This column foots up approximately as follows: Congregational, $29,000; Episcopal $27,000; Presbyterian, $26,000; Methodist, $22,000.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Boarding Home, 291 Michigan Ave.

Transient Home, 467 Jackson Boulevard.

Transient Home, 5718 Kimbark Ave.

Employment Bureau, 291 Michigan Ave.

Traveler's Aid Department.

Objects: "To promote the moral, religious, intellectual and temporal welfare of women, especially women who are dependent upon their own exertions for support—a part of this work to consist in organizing homes and securing employment for self-supporting girls, and those endeavoring to become such, and furnishing medical aid through a well-regulated dispensary."

"The work is vested in a board of 150 members from the different Protestant churches of Chicago. There are several committees for the more effectual carrying out of the work: religious, hospital, employment, visitation of sick, boarding homes, library, traveler's aid, extension of the work, entertainments, educational, building, finance, etc."

The Association has three boarding homes—Y. W. C. A. Home, accommodating during 1893, 182, Transient Home, 375, and at the Kimbark Ave. Home many more. These Homes daily accommodate from 75 to 100 girls. The limit of time is one year. This is pursuant of the policy of the Association in order that a greater number may have the protection of the Homes until they have become acquainted with the city. The number of admissions, 1893, were: permanent boarders, 405; transients, 1661.

The Employment Bureau, No. 243 Wabash Avenue, furnishes positions for women. The number of situations secured last year was 1557, but aid in other ways was given to many more. The number of applications was 4641.

Traveler's Aid Department.—This work is the daily visitation by six women of the depots, and aiding in any way needy incoming strangers. Money and transportation is often furnished, and those who need the protection of the Transient Home are taken there. Cards for direction are posted conspicuously at the depots.

The following extract is from the Association's last report:

"We placed six women visitors at our different depots, who met, in person, the incoming through trains likely to bring the classes we wish to serve. In this way we have gotten hold of large numbers of girls before sinfully disposed persons could do so, for it is in the hurry and confusion of first stepping from the trains that they are most easily influenced. Our workers, with blue badge upon their breast, stand within or just outside the gates while the train unloads, their instructions always in mind,

"Look for girls alone or in suspicious company." They politely address the strangers, and offer aid in any possible way. They acquire wisdom and discrimination, tact and quickness of action. They are ready to help any woman who needs help, often finding friends, preventing extortion from cab-drivers, etc., placing on right cars, obtaining assistance when money has been lost or stolen, taking to friends who have failed to meet them, procuring care in case of illness, etc.

Number aided in various ways, 4,500; number sent or taken to the Homes for board or temporary charity (young women especially needing such care), 855; number accompanied to addresses, or to friends who failed to meet them (young and ignorant girls, who might otherwise have suffered), 371; girls rescued directly from the hands of evil persons, 17; obtained transportation (in whole or in part), 93.

Transient Home.—Number received in the Home, May to January, 700. A large number have been sent to suitable homes, of which no record is kept. Places filled, 200; day board given to various destitute ones, 725; money, $30; also a large amount of clothing. Several have been sent to institutions where they properly belong. Many have been furnished passes or half rates to their homes. The Foreign Consuls and the City Detective Department have sent a number of people to the Home until they could provide for them, and three unfortunates have been sent to the Insane Asylum.

The receipts of the Y. W. C. A. for 1891 were $14,396, $5,633 being from donations. The expenditures were $9,580, the balance going into the building fund.

The support is from board and donations, there being no endowments. There are no paid solicitors.

MRS. LEANDER STONE, President.

MRS. A. S. CHAMBERLIN, Secretary.

GERMAN BETHESDA DEACONESS' SOCIETY.

30-32 BELDEN PLACE.

Object: "To nurse the sick poor free of charge, both at their homes and the hospitals, and to fit for such trained nursing."

Bethesda Home accommodates from 35 to 40 nurses, all females, this being the maximum capacity. Trained nurses are sent to the sick; those able, pay a fair charge to support, in part, the Home. One-third of the nurses were so employed.

A Nurses' Training School is a part of the uses to which the Home is devoted. The Society owns its buildings, valued at $30,000; employs no solicitors—is supported by voluntary donations. Receipts in 1891 were about $2,500; disbursements same. Religious affiliations are Protestant.

FRANK F. HENNING, President and Treasurer.

HERMANN JACOBS, Secretary.

KIRKLAND FREE ALL NIGHT DISPENSARY.

III S. HALSTED ST.

Object: "To give medicine and professional advice free of charge to the worthy poor."

The Dispensary was opened in 1889; number of patients treated during 1890 and '91, 5,546; treatments, 8,494, and prescriptions, 8,494; number of outside calls made by the four Dispensary physicians, 1,021. There are nine physicians connected with the staff. Office hours are from 2 to 5 P. M. daily, except Sunday.

The financial management of the Dispensary and Mission are the same, except that the Dispensary assumes the cost of medicine and medical appliances; the total receipts and disbursements average about $6,000 a year.

The Mission is Protestant, but its benefits are not limited on account of race, nationality or creed. It has no endowments, owns no property, employs no solicitors.

DR. COX, Superintendent.

WAIFS' MISSION AND TRAINING SCHOOL.

44 STATE STREET.

TELEPHONE 4910 MAIN.

DINING ROOM.

Objects:

The training of neglected and vagrant children to habits of industry by trade teaching and instructive occupations.

DORMITORY.

Runaway and needy boys are also sheltered until employment or homes are found for them, or until their parents are communicated with.

SCHOOL ROOM

A Waifs' Sunday School is held at Cavalry Armory, on Michigan Ave. near Madison St. Lunch is furnished children and clothing distributed. Average attendance 536.

The work is undenominational.

On Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's and Easter the Mission provides suitable entertainments and dinners to about 1,000 children; on the last Thursday in June a picnic is given by the Mayor's proclamation, affording "a good time" to some 10,000 poor children.

BUSINESS OFFICE.

BLACKSMITH SHOP.

A laundry also affords employment for a number of the boys.

The receipts for 1893 amounted to $21,832, of which $5,225 was donated and $16,607 was earned by the industrial departments.

Summary of the Mission's report for 1893: Free meals given, 96,403; free baths given, 11,319; free garments given, 18,328; visits to sick, 1,063; police court cases, 707; boys admitted to Home, 564; religious services held, 365; employment and homes found, 371; free lodgings, 22,462.

LAUNDRY.

The Training School.

The American Youth is a weekly paper published by the Waifs' Mission.

A number of boys are given employment in setting the type for it, printing it, etc. There is also a thoroughly equipped printing plant for general job printing.

WAGON SHOP.

A pony express, for delivering parcels, is a Mission enterprise giving employment to the boys on its wagons and in the barn. A messenger service is operated by the boys. A blacksmith and wagon-making shop is also in operation, where boys are instructed in those trades.

THE MARY A. AHRENS MISSION.

48 PECK COURT, CHICAGO, ILL.

Its object: To give immediate aid and furnish a home for unemployed girls and women. Immediate relief given to women and children.

This Mission is a department of the "Chicago Immediate Aid Society," which was incorporated the third day of August, 1890, and had for its object immediate relief and aid for indigent and suffering people.

December the 11th, Mary A. Ahrens, President of the Immediate Aid Society, opened the first Relief Station in Chicago, which was located at 346 and 348 Wabash Ave., and in the period of five weeks and three days served 44,000 meals to men and boys, and furnished lodgings to over 25,000 persons. She also, furnishing the necessary articles for cleaning the streets, set the men at work and was instrumental in furnishing a number of men with employment, and assisted others in returning to their homes, located in other states.

During this period of relief work, the use of the premises, 48 Peck Court, was donated to Mary A. Ahrens, as a lodging house for homeless men; but recognizing the necessity there was for giving relief and aid to women and children, she had the house put in order, and by the help of friends, it was furnished in a comfortable manner, and opened as a Mission, January 8, 1894. The maintenance of this Mission is dependent wholly for its existence upon voluntary contributions. There is but one paid position, viz., a solicitor and agent combined.

The officers of this Society, as required by the Charter of "The Immediate Aid Society," are three in number.

The report ending in June shows as follows:

Cash received, $605. Cash disbursed, $748.

January, distributed	7,000	loaves of bread, and	1,100	blankets.
February, "	4,348	"	"
March, "	2,210	"	"
April, "	1,608	"	"
May, "	560	"	"
June, "	520	"	"	with meat and milk most of the time.

BOARD AND LODGING.

BAPTIST HOSPITAL.

CENTRE STREET AND RACINE AVE.

Object: "To conduct a general hospital, with a staff of Homœopathic physicians." The institution was established Sept. 29, 1891. The hospital is Baptist in its affiliations, but admits patients without reference to nationality, race or creed. It owns no property, has no endowments and employs no solicitors. Patients may have physicians of any school of practice, as desired, though the regular hospital staff is Homœopathic.

Baptist Missionary Training School

2411 Indiana Ave.

The Baptist Missionary Training School is carried on under the auspices of The Women's Baptist Home Mission Society, and is designed to assist women of suitable age and qualifications to prepare themselves for all lines of Christian work, so that they may render efficient service as Sunday School, Church, City, Home or Foreign Missionaries, and thus to secure the Christianization and consequent purification and elevation of homes.

The Mission Training School was organized in 1881. The Home, which is owned, accommodates 55 students. One day a week is devoted to visiting from house to house in the most neglected parts of the city, nursing the sick and relieving the poor, holding industrial schools, and children's and mothers' meetings. Besides this, there are religious and temperance features of work.

MRS. C. D. MORRIS, Preceptress.

CATHOLIC CHURCH CHARITIES.

Alexian Brothers' Hospital.

559-569 N. Market St.

"The objects of the Order of the Cellite or Alexian Brothers are to nurse the sick, take care of lunatics, and bury the dead." It was founded during the great plague of the fourteenth century. It conducts the hospital, admitting only male patients, excepting for prescriptions in its dispensary.

The total number treated in the hospital during 1891 was 2,243—Catholics, 1,258; Protestants, 865; number paying full rates, 1,114; partial, 302; charity patients, 827; brought by patrol, 260; discharged as cured, 1,408; improved, 393; unimproved, 65; died, 150; brought in dying condition, 53; remaining in hospital Dec. 31, 1891, 174.

No financial statements are made public. The religious affiliations are Catholic. Three of the Brothers, of whom there are twenty-eight, are "solicitors of contributions."

HOME FOR WORKING GIRLS.

Object: "Principally to give help and protection to respectable young working girls."

The average number in the Home is 200; 400 transients were received during last year, and helped in various ways. The work is a private benevolence, and self-supporting by means of laundrying, dress-making, etc. No financial report is made public.

The Industrial School is in charge of the ladies of the Sacred Heart. The attendance is forty.

The School for Deaf Mutes aims to care for and train deaf mutes. It was opened in 1894 and has 120 pupils, 80 boarding in the institution, a separate building, but on the grounds. It is maintained in part by the bequest of the late Peter Schoenhoffen and voluntary contributions.

The Home for the Friendless receives and cares for temporarily homeless women and girls.

MISS E. CAUGHLAN, Superior.

St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum.

(Incorporated 1872).

Cor. 35th St. and Lake Ave.

Object: "To protect, support, and educate indigent children in the city of Chicago."

During the past twenty-seven years it has sheltered and educated several thousand children. In 1894 there were 250 girls. It is conducted by 11 Sisters of the Congregation of St. Joseph, who have their mother-house in South St. Louis, Mo. It is under the charge of different English speaking Catholic churches of the city, all of which contribute to its support, while Archbishop Feehan gives it his especial attention. The enrollment, September, 1894, was 309. Board is charged when the parents or guardian is able to pay. The girls are given a share in the housework. Receipts during 1891, $10,106; disbursements, the same. It has no endowments, owns durable brick buildings, and spacious grounds.

M. MATILDA, Superintendent.

St. Joseph's Hospital.

360 Garfield Ave.

Object: "The care and treatment of the sick."

There were 80 patients September, 1894. The average number of patients during 1891 was 70; enlarged present capacity, 250. The report estimates that two-thirds are pay, and one-third charity patients. The former class is the main support of the institution. It was founded in 1871, is conducted by the "Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph," and is Catholic in its affiliations. It owns its buildings, the additions and improvements of 1890 costing $130,000, which was covered in part by a $10,000 legacy from Conrad Seipp.

"SISTER M. ELIZABETH," Superintendent.

St. Joseph's Providence Orphan Asylum.

Crawford Ave., near Belmont Ave.

Object: "To shelter and instruct in the branches of a common-school education homeless boys under twelve years of age."

There are four teachers. The report is as follows: Number of boys in the Home, 200; number received during last year, 100; number for whom homes were provided, 72; average annual receipts, $6,859. Disbursements last year, $6,859. The property owned is a large four-story brick building and several acres of land, the title and control being vested in the Sisters of St. Joseph, a Catholic order.

SISTER DOMINICA, Superior.

St. Peter's Catholic Day Nursery and Kindergarten.

451 S. Clark St.

This combined Day Nursery and Kindergarten was established by the St. Peter's (R. Catholic) Church. The average attendance is about 30. There are also some ten half-orphans boarding there, and these, with the tuition charged, are the principal support of the work.

Receipts and disbursements for 1893-4 were $1,500.

St. Mary's Training School for Boys.

Feehanville, Ill. On the Wis. Central R. R.

Object: "To care for and teach some useful employment to indigent and wayward boys."

In September, 1894, there were 400 pupils and 16 "Christian Brothers" in charge. Cook County Commissioners appropriate approximately $12,000 annually for 100 boys, or $120 per capita. The expenditures for 1893 were $26,552, the per capita cost being a little over $60.00. The average number of boys are 400. The school is in large part self-sustaining.

The receipts from private boarders were in 1891 $7,805; from donations, $122; from farm produce, $4,588; from dairy, milking 46 cows, and from poultry, $3,435. The institution owns its farm of 440 acres through which the Desplaines River flows. The site is picturesque. The water is supplied by an artesian well. Manual and literary training alternate each half day.

Net assets, $80,149. No paid solicitors are employed. The religious affiliations are Catholic.

ARCHBISHOP P. A. FEEHAN, President ex-officio.

JAS. BURKE, Acting President.

REV. P. J. MULDOON, Secretary and Treasurer.

"BROTHER LEO," Director and Superintendent.

Visitation and Aid Society.

Room 500 and 501, 34 Washington St., Venitian Building.

Object: "To visit public and private eleemosynary institutions and assist temporally, spiritually and educationally the inmates; to place destitute children in homes; to obtain employment for deserving persons, and to engage in other charitable work."

The Society in its Fifth Annual Report (1893-4) gives the number of visits made to the infirmary as 154; number of visitors, 954; number of religious services held in institutions, 143; number of books distributed, 9,000. It interested itself in 1,505 children; returned 297 to relatives, and placed in Homes and Institutions 602; otherwise improved the condition of 608. Employment was obtained for 298 persons, transportation for 197; otherwise assisted by securing for them nurses, physicians, relief, etc., 3,252. Its receipts were $2,107; expenditures, $2,569. Two Jesuit Fathers assist the Society in its spiritual work.

The Society employs a visitor and a clerk; no solicitors. One of its agents is paid and detailed by the Police Department. The visitor and Police agent attend the Police Courts to take charge of dependent children and families. The Society owns no property; has no endowments; is supported by contributions from members and friends. The Society affiliates with the Catholic church, its officers and visitors being mostly Catholic.

T. D. HURLEY, President.

P. T. GILLESPIE, Treasurer.

MRS. THOMAS F. QUINLAN, Secretary.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Cor. Davis and Le Moyne Streets.

Objects: "The Poor Handmaids of Jesus Christ, in whose charge the hospital is, are banded together to nurse the sick and poor in private houses and hospitals."

There were 800 patients nursed last year; 467 were discharged recovered, 65 improved, 77 unimproved, and 101 died—30 having entered in a dying state. There were nursed free of charge 271 patients, 470 paid full rates and 57 partial.

The average annual receipts are $32,947.62; disbursements for 1891, $80,478.54. The support is from "soliciting," Mr. Martin Ryerson's "charity trust," and pay patients. The assets are the block of five acres on which the hospital is located, and buildings valued at $250,000. The affiliations are Catholic. It is in charge of 22 Sisters.

SISTER M. POLYCARPA, Sister Superior.

St. Vincent's Infant Asylum.

191 La Salle Ave.

Objects: "To care for foundlings and destitute children under six years of age; also, to accommodate poor mothers with their infants."

A portion of the building is fitted up as a lying-in department, which is entirely private. The capacity of the home is 200; average number of children, 150. In September, 1894, there were 150 infants, 25 patients. A Kindergarten with 40 boys and 100 girls, in charge of 2 teachers. The children are disposed of in some cases by being returned to their relatives, in others adopted into private families, and still others transferred to the Orphan Asylum when seven years of age. The annual cost is $12,000; the grounds are valued at $25,000; buildings, $75,000; furniture, $8,000. The support is from boarders, legacies, donations, and proceeds of lectures and entertainments. The benefits of the asylum are extended to mothers and children of all denominations. REV. J. W. VAN INGEN, Superintendent.

St. Mary's Mission House.

213-215 Washington Boulevard.

Objects: "Helping and visiting the sick and poor; having Bible classes and mothers' meetings."

The House is connected with the Cathedral SS. Peter and Paul (Protestant Episcopal). It is in charge of the "Sisters of St. Mary," who live on the third floor, the other floors being devoted to guilds and mothers' and girls' meetings.

A Free Dispensary is conducted in the basement, being open for three days a week.

St. Mary's Home for Children.

221 Washington Boulevard.

This Home was opened Sept. 18, 1894. It is part of the Mission and under the charge of the sisters. Six children are in the Home. It can accommodate 15 children.

A Boys and Girls' Guild meets twice a week; a Sewing Class for Girls on Saturday afternoons. Domestic service is also taught to girls.

The property is owned; no solicitors are employed; there are no endowments, and no salaries are paid.

REV. GEORGE D. WRIGHT, Minister-in-charge.

"SISTER FRANCES," Sister-in-charge.

St. James' Church.

THE ST. JAMES' DAY NURSERY.

268 Superior St.

It reports that it is now entering upon its third year and presents an encouraging record of the work it is accomplishing among poor women and their little children.

From month to month there has been a steady increase in the number of children cared for, and the amount of employment supplied to needy mothers. The doors of the Crèche are opened each morning at 6:30, and the matron, with her assistant, receives the little ones. After a breakfast of warm milk and bread, they go to the play-room, where the younger children pass a happy day with their play-fellows and their toys. At 8:30 the older children are taken by the nurse to the Moody kindergarten—an arrangement having been made with the teachers to receive them during the morning session. This provides them with schooling, and greatly lightens the cares of the matron. At noon the nurse calls for them and brings them home, where a dinner of meat, potatoes or rice and bread is served. At 5:30 they have a supper of mush and milk, and by 7 o'clock they are all once more with their mothers. The average daily attendance of children has been nine, making a total number for the year of 2,806. The matron has supplied many of the mothers with work, this being an important feature of the Day Nursery.

Convalescents' Home.

4333 Ellis Avenue.

Objects: "The Home has been incorporated to provide a comfortable and inexpensive resting place for invalids who are well enough to leave the hospitals, but not yet strong enough to resume life's burdens."

The society pays for these accommodations at the rate of $25 a month, the beneficiary being encouraged to return this when able.

The Protestant Episcopal church has the work in charge, but the benefits are not limited as to race, creed or nationality.

The society has the use of a cottage for working women and girls, accommodating 20 persons, on a lake near La Porte, Indiana.

REV. DR. WALTER DELAFIELD, President.

GEN'L JOSEPH STOCKTON, Vice-President.

CHAS. M. FLACK, Secretary.

C. R. LARRABEE, Treasurer.

Church Home for Aged Persons.

4327 Ellis Avenue.

Object: "To provide a quiet, comfortable home, the daily companionship of others in the same sphere of life, and kind watchfulness and care for such persons as have been accustomed to the refinements of life, but who have outlived their friends, lost their means of support, or in other ways become dependent."

I. Church Home for Aged Ladies.

The Home was incorporated Aug. 22, 1890. One room has been endowed at a cost of $5,000 by the Church of the Transfiguration; a second by Mrs. Ruben Taylor.

The total receipts for 1893 were $4,648.22; disbursements, $4,324.22. Net assets, $25,000; liabilities, $4,000.

II. Church Home for Aged Gentlemen.

This Home forms a part of the same block of buildings with and is adjoining the Orphans' and the Old Ladies' Homes. It was opened Aug. 1st, 1894. The property is valued at $25,000, on which there is still a debt of $19,000.

It aims to accommodate aged and destitute merchants, clergymen, artists, literary men, etc. The cost of endowing a room is $5,000.

The admission fee for life inmates is $500. Some are taken temporarily free of charge, or for board. The Home is under the direct supervision of the Episcopal church—its board of managers and trustees being Episcopalian by the requirements of its charter, and subject to the supervision of the bishop of the diocese. There are no paid solicitors or endowments, the support being mainly from voluntary donations.

CHURCH HOME FOR ORPHANS.

Church Home for Orphans.

4331 Ellis Avenue.

Incorporated Sept., 1892.

Objects: "The care of orphan and half-orphan children."

The Home is owned by the corporation. There are no endowments, the support being from voluntary contributions. The Protestant Episcopal church has charge of the work, but the benefits are not limited on account of race, nationality or creed.

The Home has accommodated 50 children during 1893. The policy is to care for the children, charging board when relatives or friends are able to pay, but otherwise to place them out in private homes as soon as practicable.

The receipts for 1893 were $1,621.66; disbursements, $1,601.29.

LUTHERAN CHARITIES.

Uhlich's Evangelical Lutheran Orphan Asylum.

Burling and Center Streets.

Object: "The support and education, first, of the orphans of the First United Evangelical Lutheran Church of Chicago, and of orphans of such Evangelical Lutheran Churches of Chicago as the corporation may see fit to admit. The board of trustees must be members of the above named church."

The Asylum sheltered during 1891, as appears from its 22nd annual report, 123 children, 45 being admitted during the year and 31 dismissed. The average number in the Home was 84, and the cost per capita $2 per week. There was no death, excepting that of the Superintendent. About 30 of the children are entire orphans; for the others, the half-orphans, board is paid by their parents—from 75 cents to $1.50 per week. The receipts were $12,045; disbursements, $10,741. The Asylum is supported mainly from the income of the land (60 lots) bequeathed by Carl Uhlich in 1869, which it leases. It receives but small donations; has no solicitors.

Augustana Hospital.

Corner Lincoln and Cleveland Avenues, Chicago.

Objects: "The training of well-qualified nurses, the establishment and support of a hospital, the care of the aged, the education of the young, and, in general, the exercise of mercy among the suffering." (Charter Feb. 14, 1892.)

The report from Oct. 15, 1893, to Oct. 15, 1894, is as follows:

Patients treated during the year, 522. Total number of days of treatment, 11,585. Days paid, 7,877. Part paid, 2,284. Charity days, 1,424; pay patients, 393; part pay, 62; charity, 67; cured, 324; improved, 105; unimproved, 25; died, 31; surgical, 320; medical, 202. Admitted since opening, 1,732.

A Training School for nurses was established recently as a department of the work of the Hospital.

The Hospital has only one room endowed, and reports that it is utterly unable to do the charity work which appeals to it. There is an encumbrance of $60,000 on the property, which is valued at $200,000.

The Hospital is owned and controlled by the Illinois Conference of the Swedish Lutheran Church. It is supported by voluntary contributions, and by receipts from patients. No solicitors are employed.

METHODIST CHARITIES.

Chicago Deaconess' Home.

227 E. Ohio St.

Object: "To organize, promote and maintain the work of women, banded together to devote their whole time and strength to good works, errands of love and mercy, without remuneration except to receive their support at the Home."

The aim is to instruct and train for the work of visiting among the poor, and to direct it through careful superintendence. The Deaconesses fit themselves for the work by an elementary course in medicine and nursing when visiting, and when nursing Deaconesses, through a full course in a training school for nurses. The Home is supported by voluntary contributions. No charges are made for services, since these are rendered to the destitute. The last report shows: Receipts for one year, from Apr. 10, '93, to Apr. 10, '94, $5,000.36; disbursements, $4,723.74. Receipts for "emergency fund," $1,610; disbursements, $1,519.54.

Much of the work is spiritual. Among its philanthropic features are: Number of sick nursed in their homes, 196; number of calls on the sick, 1,528; number of days spent in nursing sick in their homes, 800½—nights, 672; number of garments given away, 17,440; baskets of food, 1,202; bouquets of flowers, 3,126. The number of Deaconesses living in the Home, not including teachers or students or those engaged in hospital work, is 18. The society owns its building, has no endowments or paid solicitor.

Its affiliations are with the Methodist Episcopal church. It owns Rest Cottage.

The finances are managed by the Chicago Deaconess Aid Society.

Methodist Deaconess' Orphanage.

Lake Bluff, Ill.

Object: "To care for destitute children and to furnish a Home for the needy; to educate them and find them when required permanent homes."

The orphanage is a building containing 18 rooms, two stories with attic and basement. It can accommodate 75 children and is designed as the main building for a group of cottages to be erected when needed. There are spacious grounds, with shade trees and wide verandas. The whole is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hobbs.

The orphanage is in charge of the Methodist Deaconesses whose headquarters are at their home, 227 E. Ohio St.

The work was commenced in 1893 in a rented home, the Deaconess' Rest Cottage on the present grounds

Free Kindergarten.

These lines of charitable work are conducted in and in connection with the Halsted Street Mission (M. E.). (Organized in 1866.) The Mission aims to be a benevolent center for that part of the city. In it the Relief and Aid Society has had one of its branch offices for two years.

The Industrial classes embrace printing, shorthand and typewriting, drawing, telegraphy, and needle and fancy work. Average attendance, 237.

The Kitchengarten instructs larger girls in all kinds of housework and housekeeping. The average attendance is 26.

The Kindergarten is in session five days in the week, and has an average attendance of more than 73 pupils.

The Information Bureau seeks to supply male help. Besides these departments there is a course of free lectures given in the winter on social and moral questions, also free stereopticon entertainments.

The Mission is conducted in a building owned by the Chicago Home Missionary and Church Extension Society of the M. E. Church, but encumbered $12,000.

Receipts and disbursements on account of the Kindergarten last year were $600, and on account of the industrial work, $450. The support is from voluntary donations.

The Epworth House.

N. W. Corner Halsted and Congress Streets.

The Epworth House is an Evangelistic Social Settlement. It is under the direction of an organization known as the "Forward Movement." It was established March 4th, 1894, after the general plan of a work known as the Oxford House, founded in London by Hugh Price Hughes, and the University settlements. It affiliates with the Episcopal Leagues of the M. E. Church.

Object: "Its aim is to establish a center of moral reform in the most neglected sections of the city of Chicago, where there can be provided a crèche, a Christian kindergarten, free dispensary, medical attendance, industrial schools, a night school, a reading room, lecture courses, preaching services, Sunday schools, a system of visitation which will give thorough information as to the needs of the community, and in brief, where there can be utilized any form of applied Christianity which may seem practicable in winning the people to a better life."

The Medical Department gives medical advice and medicines to the neighboring poor.

The Kindergarten was opened at the House, March 12.

The Lunch Counter is established and lunches are served not to realize profits, but rather for purposes of hospitality and good fellowship. Food and drink is offered at cost and sometimes given away, to offset the free lunch counters of the saloon.

The Musical Department gives both vocal and instrumental music for the entertainment of the passer-by and strangers.

Sewing Schools teach the girls of the neighborhood sewing.

The Bureau of Information aims to bring the employer in relation to the man or woman who seeks work.

A Reading Room is also opened to make possible access to the better literature of the day.

A Legal Advice Department, where the poor can get freely and without charge, legal information is also open.

There are in the House from four to ten visitors, the main reliance being on personal contact at the homes of the people in the neighborhood, especially to reach in this way the children. The residents of the House are without salaries and donate their services. The Home is dependent on voluntary contributions.

The Maternity Department occupies a separate building, and is deemed a successful departure.

The Convalescents' Home gives relief by being more homelike than any hospital can be made.

The Throat and Chest Department. This class of diseases, it is claimed, are better treated when isolated in a building by themselves.

The support of the Hospital is from endowments, amounting to $161,602, donations and receipts from patients; no solicitors are employed. The buildings are owned. The religious affiliations are Presbyterian.

Objects: "To help the very needy of the North Side, especially the little girls who wander about the streets, begging."

It was opened in 1876 by the members of Unity Church, and a few years later, through a bequest of $20,000 by Eli Bates to the trustees of Unity Church, the ground and buildings were provided, the property and management being vested in this church, which also supports the enterprise mainly. The departments of work are:

Sewing School, Saturday mornings, with an average attendance of 175 girls. The children are given the garments they make.

Cooking Classes of ten pupils, in rotation, are also held—"a popular feature." Two girls are constantly in training as nurse girls. A cooking class for older girls and women was also held one evening a week last winter. Two evenings a week were devoted to boys' clubs. A mothers' class was held in the afternoon. During the summer months, when the public schools are closed, the school is open daily, and lessons are given in cooking, sewing and calisthenics, and the attendance is full.

The Day Nursery accommodates daily from 10 to 20 infants.

The Kindergarten has one paid, and 4 assistant Kindergarten teachers. The average attendance is 45 each day.

The average annual expenditures are about $2,500 — last year's, $2,796.49. There are no endowments or solicitors.

Object: "It shall be the aim of this Association to enable poor Jewish children to become useful members of society by teaching them the elements of skill, habits of cleanliness and order, thus developing within them a feeling of self-respect and self-reliance. It is the purpose of this Association to maintain and carry on a school for boys and girls under the age of 18 years in the nature of a Kindergarten, a Girls' Sewing School and Kitchengarten, and a Manual Training and Trade School for boys and girls.

The School, which was founded in 1890, has a Kindergarten, a Primary and a Grammar Department. The Manual Work is conducted as an art and mechanical department. The latter embraces modeling, free hand drawing and designing. The mechanical department comprises Sloyd work, cardboard, wood, and machine work, and sewing, fitting and drafting, domestic economy, cooking and household duties. German, gymnastics, and music are also taught. There are also large ungraded classes. No charges are made for tuition. The annual current expenses average about $20,000.

Owing to the increase of immigration from Russia and other foreign lands, the Ungraded Classes have always been crowded. Many children who came to the school directly from Russia have in less than two months been advanced into the fifth or sixth grades.

The Slum Posts reach out by personal influence and small amounts of relief to the destitute and wayward of their respective vicinities. Each is in charge of two female officers of the Salvation Army.

The motives and aims of the Army in all their work are distinctively religious, the "saving" and not simply the relieving of the destitute and fallen. The responsible local officer in Chicago is "Brigadier" Edward Fielding.

CHICAGO MEDICAL MISSION,

40 Custom House Place, near Van Buren St.

Free Nursing.

Free Dispensary.

Free Baths.

Free Laundry.

Object: "To advance the cause of Christianity, and to aid in uplifting the fallen, relieving the suffering, and improving the condition of the neglected classes."

The following statement of the origin, and general plan of the work is furnished by the Superintendent. The Chicago Medical Mission was formally opened June 25, 1893. It is Christian, but entirely un denominational in its work. It was established and is conducted under the auspices of the S. D. A. Medical Missionary and Benevolent Association, which has for many years conducted a self-supporting and philanthropic institution at Battle Creek, Mich., known as the Battle Creek Sanitarium, and as the finances of the institution have improved to such a degree as to enable it to extend its work, and through the aid of generous gifts from Mrs. C. E. Haskell, and other philanthropic persons, has established medical missionary work in various lines, and in different parts of this and other countries. Its principal branches are at St. Helena, Cal., Guadalajara, Mexico, and Cape Town, South Africa. It has also a branch Sanitarium at 28 College Place, Chicago, the means of which are devoted to the support of the Chicago Medical Mission, though inadequate to carry on the work of the mission, which has grown far beyond the expectations of the projectors. The following are the principal lines of work undertaken in connection with the Chicago Medical Mission:

Missionary Nursing.—For nearly a year before the formal opening of the mission a missionary nurse had been employed for the purpose of nursing the sick poor at their homes, and laboring for the improvement of the condition of the most indigent and neglected families to be found on Clark Street, Sherman Avenue, and in the wretched tenements of that vicinity. Since the opening of the mission a large number of nurses have been employed, from half a dozen during the summer months to more than thirty at times during a portion of last winter. The work of a missionary nurse is evangelical as well as medical. Since the opening of the mission, now fifteen months, more than 4,500 persons have been cared for by missionary nurses.

Free Obstetric Service.—Since October 8, 1893, a free obstetric service under the charge of a competent physician with a corps of trained nurses has been conducted in connection with the mission, through which 125 lying-in women have been cared for. This service is conducted in a manner different from the work of the ordinary visiting or missionary nurse, the nurse remaining with the patient as long as may be required by the necessities of either mother or child. Doctors, physicians, and nurses, are in constant readiness to answer calls to any part of the city.

The Dispensary.—Since the formal opening of the mission a free dispensary service has been maintained. The poor of all classes are received daily at 40 Custom House Place, where medicines are dispensed, wounds are dressed, and any other treatment required administered. The treatment given includes massage, electricity, and baths of every sort required, as well as medical prescriptions. The whole number of patients prescribed for and treated at the dispensary during the first year was 4,169. This number has since been increased to nearly 6,000. The number of treatments administered the first year, including dressings supplied, but not including ordinary baths, was 16,852, which has since been increased (fifteen months since opening) to over 20,000. The afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday are reserved for women exclusively. A lady physician is in regular attendance on those days. A gentleman physician is in attendance at the dispensary daily in the forenoon. Trained nurses are at the dispensary every day of the week for attendance upon emergency cases.

Free Baths.—Provision for free baths was made at the opening of the mission. Both shower and full baths are given, as well as such special baths as may be prescribed by the attending physicians. From the outset the baths have been very liberally patronized; the daily number of baths administered averaging more than sixty, sometimes reaching double that number. The total number of baths given in the fifteen months since the opening is a little more than 23,000.

Free Laundry.—A feature of the mission, which is perhaps unique, is a free laundry, which is carried on in connection with the free baths. A large number of patrons of the mission are men who have no regular home, no facilities for washing their clothing, and no money with which to pay for laundrying. The free laundry has been very liberally patronized from the beginning. It is fitted up with eight laundry tubs and a hot air dryer, and accommodates seventy-five to eighty persons daily. The whole number of persons who have used the laundry from the opening to the present time is something more than 17,000, or more than a thousand a month. The number of persons using the laundry would be very much greater if the facilities were more extensive, as it is constantly in use from early morning till late at night, and it is not an unusual thing for persons to come as early as 6 o'clock in the morning, to be sure of getting an opportunity to wash their clothing.

Penny Dinners.—Early last fall (in 1893) the hungry faces of those visiting the different departments of the mission suggested the necessity of relieving, to some extent, the famishing multitudes left stranded in the city by the financial panic. The plan of giving penny dinners was instituted. The dinner consisted of a large bowlful of nourishing and palatable soup with zwieback or granola (a health food supplied gratuitously for the purpose by the Sanitarium Health Food Co., Battle Creek, Mich.). Books of 100 tickets each were issued and liberally purchased by business men and others. The number of penny dinners given daily increased rapidly from one or two hundred to fifteen hundred. When the public soup kitchens were opened a few weeks later the sale of books of tickets was stopped and the dinners distributed, as far as possible, to those unable to work. From this time on during the winter until May 1, 1894, when the dinners were discontinued for the summer, the number averaged from three to five hundred daily.

Financial Support.—The financial foundation of the Chicago Medical Mission was laid by Henry S. P. and Francis Henry Wessels, of South Africa, friends of the enterprise, who contributed $40,000 for the purchase of a building to be used as a Sanitarium conducted in connection with the Battle Creek Sanitarium, all the profits of the institution to be devoted to maintaining the medical mission in Chicago. The branch Sanitarium has been very prosperous from its opening, but the work of the mission has developed so rapidly that the necessary expenditures have been several thousand dollars beyond the earnings of the Sanitarium, so that a debt of several thousand dollars has accumulated. The deficit has been partially made up by friends of the work, and it is hoped that the balance may be met in the same way. Thus far, no charge has been made for any service rendered by the mission. It is contemplated, however, to make a small charge hereafter for medicines and for soap, two items which amount to several hundred dollars a year, the charge made not to exceed five cents. Inquiries concerning the work should be addressed to J. H. Kellogg, M. D., Superintendent, 28 College Place, Chicago, or Battle Creek, Michigan.

“LIGHT AND HOPE” HOSPITAL.

S. W. Cor. Harrison and May Sts. Telephone W.938.

Deaconess' Home.

Free Dispensary.

The Refuge Home.

Objects: "To train ladies for nurses and missionary work. To take care of sick people. To care for erring women during confinement. To open a Home where orphans and neglected children shall be taken care of. To establish a place of recreation for the Deaconesses, where they may spend their vacation. To send Deaconesses to such families as are not able to pay for a nurse, and to take care of their sick without pay. To give special training to the Deaconesses for confinement cases, and for sickness of women and children."

In furtherance of these purposes the society, which is incorporated as the Missionary Society "Light and Hope," has established in Berne, Indiana, April 1, 1893, an Orphans' Home for girls, accommodating 100 inmates; at Bluffton, Ohio, a Home for Incurables, and Branch Hospitals at Cleveland, Ohio, and Detroit, Mich.

In Chicago it has purchased and fitted up the church on the corner of May and Harrison Streets for the purpose of conducting its Hospital, Deaconess' Home Training School, Refuge for fallen and other women, and Free Dispensary.

The average number of patients in the Hospital is forty, of deaconesses, thirty.

LIGHT AND HOPE ORPHAN ASYLUM.

In Chicago the work among fallen women and nursing by the Deaconesses among destitute families are prominent features, especially the receiving into its hospital and Home erring women previous to and during confinement, in the hope of restoring them to their friends and a life of virtue. Very encouraging results are reported for this line of work. The number of this class cared for since Jan. 1, is 175; number of children born in Home, 60.

The founder, general and financial manager and president, is an ordained Mennonite minister, but the work is conducted along unsectarian though distinctively evangelical lines.

COOK COUNTY CHARITIES.

County Agents' Office.

129 S. Clinton Street.

Object: "To relieve, with provisions, fuel and clothing and transportation, the destitute of Cook County."

The general monthly allowance of outdoor relief for one family is a 25-pound sack of flour, 5 pounds of corn beef, 5 pounds of beans, 3 of rice, 5 of oatmeal, $\frac{1}{2}$ of coffee, and tea, 1 bar of soap, and in the winter a half-ton of soft coal. The allowance is proportioned to the number of persons in the family and the measure of disability, large families receiving twice this ration. Shoes are also given to school-children. Besides giving this relief the County Agent furnishes medical care, orders for burials and for admittance to the Poor-House and the Hospital.

COOK COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Cook County Insane Asylum.

Chicago (Dunning P. O.), C., M. & St. P. R. R.

Object: "To care for the insane of Cook County not cared for elsewhere."

The average number of inmates during last year was 1,038, 550 males and 472 females. The buildings are estimated at the sum of $715,801.

The property and control is vested in the Board of Cook County Commissioners. The support is from taxation.

The number of employees average about 160—90 males and 70 females. The chronic insane are retained in this asylum; those for whom there is more hope for ultimate recovery are transferred to the Kankakee or other State hospitals for the insane.

COOK COUNTY CHARITIES

Cook County Poor-House.

Chicago (Dunning P. O.), C., M. & St. P. R.R.

Object: "To care for the very poor of Cook County who cannot be accommodated in other institutions."

The average number of inmates is about 1,300—both males and females about equally divided. Employees, 75.

The farm, comprising 246 acres, on which the buildings are located, is cultivated by the inmates; the value of the produce in 1891 was $9,469. The value of buildings is estimated at $250,000. The property and control is vested in the Board of Commissioners of Cook County; the support is from taxation.

The Infirmary is not arranged on the cottage plan. There are no industries conducted in it. The wards for males are in one wing and for females in another; aged couples are therefore necessarily separated.

Illinois Asylum for Feeble-Minded Children.

Lincoln, Logan County. Established 1865.

Object: "To promote the intellectual, moral, and physical culture of feeble-minded children, and to fit them as far as possible for earning their own livelihood and for future usefulness in society."

In 1865 the General Assembly authorized the trustees of the Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb, at Jacksonville, to open an experimental school for idiots and feeble-minded children in a rented house. Ten years later, in 1875, this school was made permanent, and a site purchased at Lincoln, upon which buildings were erected, to which large additions have since been made, including a custodial department. Cost, $250,000.

The capacity is greatly overtaxed, 700 having been refused admission. Average number of inmates, 546; expenses, $91,073.95, for 1894.

DR. A. M. MILLER, Superintendent.

Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home.

Normal, McLean County. Established 1869.

Object: "To provide a home for the nurture and intellectual, moral and physical culture of all indigent children below the age of fourteen years, whose fathers served in the armies of the Union during the late rebellion, and have died or been disabled by reason of wounds or disease received therein, or have since died."

Average number of inmates, 373; expenses for 1894, $50,220.97. CAPT. C. E. BASSETT, Superintendent.

ILLINOIS ASYLUM FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN.

ILLINOIS SOLDIER'S AND SAILOR'S ORPHANS' HOME. 241

Illinois Institution for the Education of the Blind.

Jacksonville, Morgan County.

Object: "To promote the intellectual, moral, and physical culture of the blind, and to fit them, as far as possible, for earning their own livelihood, and for future usefulness in society."

This Institution, chartered January 13, 1849, was opened (in a rented house) in April of that year. The site, which contains about twenty acres, is in the corporate limits of Jacksonville. The original buildings were destroyed by fire in 1869. In addition to the main structure, there are a separate cottage for girls, workshops, etc. The cost for land and buildings was about $250,000. Instruction is given in English, in music, and in mechanical trades.

It is free to all residents of the State of Illinois, of school age, and the adult blind, who have lost their sight later in life, are admitted to the shops to acquire trades by which to support themselves without eyes. Annual appropriations are made for its maintenance by the General Assembly. Average number of inmates, 167; expenses for 1894, $70,010.52.

DR. W. F. SHORT, Superintendent.

ILLINOIS INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND.

ILLINOIS INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF AND DUMB. 243

Illinois Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb.

Jacksonville, Morgan County. Established 1838.
Cost, $500,000.

Object: "To promote the intellectual, moral and physical culture of the deaf, and to fit them, as far as possible, for earning their own livelihood, and for future usefulness in society."

This is the largest institution for the deaf in the world, having a capacity to care properly for 500 pupils. Instruction is given in the ordinary and the higher branches of an English education; also, in mechanical trades and free-hand drawing. The corps of teachers has been selected with care. The younger pupils are separated from the older. The facilities for training are exceptionally good, including a large library, a hospital, a gymnasium, etc. Much attention is paid to training in articulation. The discipline is mild, but firm. The institution has grown to its present size from a small beginning. It is the oldest of the State institutions, being chartered February 3, 1839, but was not opened until 1845, nor was the original building (the present south wing) completed until 1849, and the north wing was not completed until 1857. The institution now includes a large group of buildings, disconnected from each other. Average number of inmates, 351; expenses for 1894, $124,098.75.

DR. S. T. WALKER, Superintendent.

Illinois Eastern Asylum for the Insane.

Kankakee, Kankakee County. Established 1877. It has 24 Cottages. Cost, $1,500,000.

Its erection marks an epoch in the history of the care of the insane in the United States, since it was the first successful attempt to break the power of the Kirkbride "propositions" adopted by the Association of Medical Superintendents of American Institutions for the Insane, in accordance with which all previous State institutions for this class of patients had been planned. The establishment, which has grown to a total capacity of 2,000 patients, and is one of the largest in the world, is in effect a village for the insane of both sexes, with a main building on the Kirkbride system, which accommodates 300 patients, 150 of each sex, but is supplemented by a group of 24 detached wards fronting on streets regularly laid out, with sidewalks, sewers, gas and water-mains, shade trees, etc. These detached wards are unlike, both in their exterior and interior designs, and are adapted to the wants of special classes of patients. A portion of them have unlocked doors, and are without guards upon the windows. All of them have large, wide piazzas for summer use by the inmates. Two of them are hospitals or infirmaries, one for each sex; that for women has a resident lady physician. There are large general bath-houses, with Turkish and plunge baths; one general dining-room, which seats 410 male patients; special buildings for lodging employees, one for each sex; workshops for patients, a theater, etc.

The farm and grounds include 843 acres, which are the property of the State of Illinois. The grounds are beautifully laid out and planted with ornamental trees and shrubbery. The site is on the left bank of the Kankakee River, adjoining the town of Kankakee, but just outside the city limits.

This, as the other State institutions, is supported by annual appropriations by the State Legislature.

No charges are made for board or medical care. Any resident of the State is admitted when needing its benefits, and when adjudged insane by a County Court.

District: This Asylum is set apart for the reception of patients from Champaign, Coles, Douglas, Edgar, Ford, Grundy, Iroquois, Kankakee, La Salle, Livingston, Moultrie, Platt, Vermillion, and Will Counties, and a portion of the insane of Cook County. Average number of inmates, 2018; expenses for 1894, $363,699.63

DR. CLARKE GAPEN, Superintendent.

Illinois Southern Hospital for the Insane.

Anna, Union County. Established 1873. Cost, about $750,000.

It has a capacity of 1,000 inmates. The main building is on the Kirkbride plan, but its north wing was destroyed by fire in 1881, and the temporary wooden barracks then erected are still occupied.

An annex detached from the hospital was erected in 1891 and accommodates 300 patients. The grounds are rolling and covered with timber.

Average number of inmates, 847. Expenses for 1894, $136,398.83. DR. W. C. LENCE, Supt.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

248 ILLINOIS SOUTHERN HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

Illinois Central Hospital for the Insane.

Jacksonville, Morgan County.

This is the first hospital for the insane erected in the State, and owes its creation largely to the philanthropic efforts of Miss Dorothea L. Dix, whose portrait hangs in the reception room. The original charter was approved March 1, 1847. The first patient was admitted November 3, 1851. The plans adopted (to accommodate 450 patients) were not completed until 1867, so that the hospital was twenty years in building. Additions have since been made by extending the wings and by the erection of two annexes, connected with each other by a large amusement hall and chapel, which have increased the capacity of the institution to 1,200 patients. These annexes are separated from the main building, which fronts north, while they front east. Each of them is in charge of an assistant physician. The hospital grounds proper are inside the city limits and contain 160 acres. The outbuildings are very complete.

District: This hospital is set apart for the reception of patients from the counties of Adams, Bureau, Calhoun, Cass, Christian, DeWitt, Fulton, Greene, Hancock, Henderson, Henry, Jersey, Knox, Logan, Macon, Macoupin, Marshall, Mason, McDonough, McLean, Menard, Mercer, Morgan, Peoria, Pike, Rock Island, Sangamon, Schuyler, Scott, Stark, Tazewell, Warren, and Woodford. Average number of inmates, 1,198; expenses for 1894, $178,630.75.

DR. J. F. MCKENZIE, Superintendent.

Illinois Northern Hospital for the Insane.
Elgin, Kane County. Established 1869. Cost, $700,000.

The main structure, which was first erected, was fully completed in 1874. It is on the Kirkbride or corridor plan, with wings in separate sections receding in echelon on each side from the center building.

The first patient was received April 3, 1872. A new building, known as the Annex, to accommodate 300 patients, was erected in 1891 at a cost of $120,000. There are also several small cottages for inmates on the estate. The out-buildings are numerous and extensive, and the ornamental lawn between the hospital and the river is a fine example of successful landscape gardening.

District: This hospital is set apart for the reception of patients from the counties of Boone, Carroll, De Kalb, Du Page, Jo Daviess, Kane, Kendall, Lake, Lee, McHenry, Ogle, Stephenson, Whiteside, Winnebago, and a portion of the insane of Cook County. Average number of inmates, 1,095; expenses for 1894, $203,207.51.

DR. LOEWY, Superintendent.

Marine Hospital (U. S.)

N. Halsted St., near Lake Shore Drive.

Object: "The relief of sick and disabled seamen."

During 1891 there were 3,431 patients treated. The Hospital is supported by the United States government, and occupies spacious buildings, erected in 1873, and eleven acres of ground, the property of the government. It is under the treasury department, U. S. Marine Hospital service, port of Chicago. The service is performed by two internes, one assistant surgeon, one passed-assistant surgeon, and Gen. John B. Hamilton, Surgeon and Commandant.

ILLINOIS NORTHERN HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

MARINE HOSPITAL, U. S.

Illinois Asylum for Insane Criminals.

Chester, Randolph County. Established 1889. Cost, $45,000.

Object: "The proper care, custody, and treatment of insane criminals, namely, (1) convict insane, (2) discharged convict insane, (3) insane sent to the State insane hospitals under mittimus, (4) persons acquitted on trial for murder, attempt at murder, rape, attempt at rape, highway robbery, or arson, on ground of insanity. Patients under treatment in insane hospitals who have been guilty, previous to admission, of homicide, highway robbery, rape, or an attempt to commit rape or arson, and whose presence is dangerous to others; likewise, all insane persons who have committed an act of homicide or who have attempted to commit such act, rape or an attempt to commit rape, arson or an attempt to commit arson, while under treatment in either of said hospitals, may be transferred to this institution by the State Commissioners of Public Charities at their discretion."

It is located on the grounds of the Illinois Southern Penitentiary at Chester, and under the control of the Penitentiary Commissioners but not of the warden.

A building, which cost $45,000, has been erected on the bluff, commanding a fine view of the Mississippi River. Average number of inmates, 112; expenses for 1894, $40,605.73.

DR. V. S. BENSON, Superintendent.

Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Chicago, Cor. Peoria and Adams Sts.

Object: "To provide gratuitous board and medical and surgical treatment for all indigent residents of Illinois, who are afflicted with diseases of the eye or ear."

In May, 1858, an association was organized in Chicago which established an eye and ear dispensary on North Clark Street. In July, 1864, by private subscription, an infirmary was added at Nos. 16 and 18 East Pearson Street. In 1865 a charter was obtained from the legislature, and in 1867-69 small appropriations were made in aid of this purely private institution. After the adoption of the new constitution of 1870, the legislature accepted the establishment and converted it into a State institution. It was destroyed in the great Chicago fire, Oct. 9, 1871, and for a time occupied a rented building. But the Chicago Relief and Aid Society made it a grant in 1872 of funds with which to purchase a new site at the corner of Peoria and Adams Streets, and the General Assembly, in 1873, made an appropriation for the present building, which has been supplemented by other appropriations since made for enlargement. Board and lodging are furnished at the expense of the State, but only to such persons as bring legal certificates of indigence. The medical and surgical treatment are rendered gratuitously by a staff of specialists. A free dispensary is attached. The land and buildings have cost about $80,000. Average number of inmates, 112; expenses for 1894, $38,698.31. DR. J. B. FOLEY, Superintendent.
